

SCHOOL BODY DROPS CASE OF METCALF

Educators Withdraw Action After Session With Prosecutor At Which Warrant For Speaker Is Refused

Civil Action Also Is Decided Against; Accuser Says He Will Present His Charges At Session of Grand Jury

There will be no warrant issued for Norman Metcalf for alleged slanderous remarks made at a meeting of the Boosters' club of the United Commercial Travelers recently against the advisory committee of the board of education.

There will be no civil suit for slander, according to board members' intimations.

The whole business, it is believed, practically ended when Metcalf, School Directors Harry Boyle and Fred Campbell and several others, each with a copy of the United Commercial Travelers' office at 10:30 o'clock this morning and "had it out." At the end of it all Metcalf issued the following public statement:

"He knows nothing personally which reflects on the honesty or integrity of any member of the board of education or the public education advisory committee. He says that he and a committee of club members will present certain charges to the grand jury about the school board. I am at a loss to know what he might want to present to the grand jury, but that is his business."

Metcalf declines to give information. Metcalf, after the meeting, said that the committee of business men he represents will air "several" charges before the grand jury, but refused to say what these matters were.

Directors Boyle and Campbell appeared satisfied after the conference. They were the original complainants against Metcalf, who said that he had a warrant for slander, which the latter refused pending an investigation. After today's investigation Boyle and Campbell were told that their only remedy, if they desire any, lies in a civil suit for slander.

"I'm not accused of anything," said President Harry Boyle of the board of education. "I should like to see Metcalf apologize to me and said he never mentioned my name," asserted Campbell.

"I haven't slandered," said E. L. Magoon, chairman of the public education advisory committee.

Metcalf asserts. Later, Metcalf asserted that the organizations which he represents would bring the matter before the grand jury. He asserted yesterday that he was merely a mouthpiece for certain organizations which have been investigating school matters.

The session was attended also by J. C. McDermott, senior counsel, and William Ellingwood, secretary of the United Commercial Travelers; Meyer Lewis of the same organization; H. S. Craig of the public education advisory committee; and H. S. Henlon, attorney for Metcalf, who is president of the Progressive Business Club.

Meantime, W. E. Hawthorne, president of the Boosters' Club of the United Commercial Travelers, watched developments from the sidelines. He indicated that the organization, as well as the Commercial Travelers, "should be kept out of this sort of thing and not be dragged in."

THREE MINUTE TALES

A Seeker of Something by AD SCHUSTER

PAINLY the girl was nervous. Pay day was not coming until the fifteenth and rent day the morning would find her just $1.37 short, so she said that she was nervous without the cause? On the other hand, who in the hotel lobby, if he cared to watch her as she moved from one cushioned chair to another, could have known that the trim sailor hat on her head was the straw hat that broke the record back? The story of room and rent is an old one, and only today Mrs. Wotter had been given a chance to let the "apartment" to a young man who had offered to pay in advance for two weeks.

Dan Carney saw that she sat, one after another in every vacant chair in the lobby. Eagerly, he started into the lobby, vacated only to fidget and squirm and then dart into another. At last the air of feverish disquietude left her and a soft smile came into her face. There was triumph in the manner with which she straightened the bow at her neck and joy in her step as she left for the street. Dan followed.

"Could I help you, Miss? I noticed that something was wrong," began Dan, who hurried his words along to give full measure of explanation during the first stages of the girl's astonishment. "I'm all right, you know. Besides, you can call a cop whenever you want. Just let me walk along and get a little of that worry off your mind. I watched you tonight and I am curious."

"YOU watched me?" asked the girl. "But you won't tell, will you? If you knew how much I needed it!" Dan's arm and pleaded, "besides there was no way to find out who it belongs to."

"Let's start out right at the first light," said the girl, who was puzzled seeker for adventure, fearful lest a word of his should lose it all.

Then came the story of the weekly room rent, stories of other times when it was ready on Sunday morning and admission that the straw hat had eaten $1.37 worth of Mrs. Wotter's of late failure to borrow and of certain expletives. The confession came fast. "And so," said the girl, "I remembered once when I was a little girl I showed my hand down between the cushions of a chair at a party and found, along with a lot of hairpins and hair ornaments, a quarter and two pennies. I have been trying it again tonight."

"And what was your luck?" asked Dan.

"I can't tell exactly," the girl blushed, "until I get home. You see I slipped what I found into my waist. I know by the feeling that there were two big coins and a small one, and besides, the penknife which I suppose I ought to have put back. I am going to take this car, so it's 'Good-night' to you, I guess."

"BUT I say," began Dan. "I wouldn't let me let you go. The girl faced him quickly. 'I'd rather do what I did than borrow from strangers,' she said with a pridefully sincere. From the platform of the car she called, 'Thank you, just the same.'

"What do you make of this?" Dan Carney asked of the other day as he handed me a newspaper clipping which read: "In a room which told a pitiful story of her struggle to make small means go far, the three girls, Saddle Elton, last night turned on the gas and gave up the fight. On a table beside a note which read, 'I leave these things to the fresh air, a heartless, cold, and cruel world, a dime, a penny, a knife, a poker chip and an 1844 penny of the large coinage.'"

CANYON SITE PICKED FOR U.C. STADIUM

Decision Made To Place Big Athletic Bowl In Strawberry Canyon Over Many Protests Filed With Regents

Claims Advanced That Big Project Will Effect Property Values; Will Be Completed In Record Time

Over the protests of some of the most prominent members of the faculty, and after an argument which has gathered heat with exchanges between professors, alumni and students, the board of regents of the University of California today announced that the new million-dollar stadium will be built in Strawberry canyon.

The protesting faculty members included a number who have their residences near the canyon and who acted in the belief that the establishment of a great athletic plant there would affect property values and make the section less desirable for residence purposes. Announcement of the decision of the regents was made by R. G. Sproul, university controller and secretary of the regents.

ELLIPSE BOWL TYPE SELECTED.
The work will be started on an elliptical bowl planned with a seating capacity of 70,000, which has been decided upon as the type of stadium to be built at the earliest possible moment, Sproul said. Every effort will be made, said Sproul, to have the stadium finished in time for the year game with Stanford, but in the event this is not possible the work will be completed, it is declared, by January 1, 1923, for the staging of the annual east vs. west game.

Decision of the Strawberry canyon site was made late last night at a final meeting of the regents committee in charge of the stadium plans. Members of the board of regents of the state university system have been considering the problem of the site and kind of structure since the close of the campaign for funds last year.

ORIGINAL PLANS ARE ABANDONED.
Abandoning the original plans for a concrete stadium erected on the southwest corner of the campus, on account of the unexpected high price of land, these two boards have been studying and investigating possible sites, including Berkeley. The facts that the canyon land is largely university property and that a structure could be erected there for a price within the means of the amount contributed to the stadium fund were very prominent in the selection.

Construction of a bowl-shaped stadium, with a seating capacity of 10,000 more than originally planned, will be handed at the games by small sections of land which will be acquired. These areas will cost less than one-fourth of the price of the original site. The bowl, when completed, will extend over 22 acres, including the memorial roadway and a 30-foot drive around the top of the field.

Though the structure will be much larger than the proposed concrete bowl, the site is a playing field which will not be more than 365 feet from the esplanade and exit by way of the Greek theater road. Automobiles will be parked at the games by the use of a acres of campus ground and by means of certain thoroughfares.

A protest against the placing of the stadium in Strawberry canyon was filed with the board of regents yesterday by residents in that vicinity. "We protest as citizens of Berkeley and vicinity against the destruction of Piedmont avenue and the playing field for making 'big athletic contests,' read the petition sent to the college heads. A hundred or more property owners, including college professors, signed the protest.

CO-OPERATIVE STORES SHUT BY SHERIFF

Three Establishments In Eastbay District Are Closed On Attachment As Board of Trade Takes Over Assets

Similar Fate Befalls String of Eighteen Stores in State; Berkeley Store Backed By Mayor and Other Officials

Every store of the Pacific Co-operative League in the state, including three in the Eastbay district, is closed today as the result of action taken by the San Francisco board of trade. The sheriff's office has served writs of attachments on the store at 3004 Telegraph avenue, Berkeley, at 2203 East Fourteenth street, Oakland, and on the Pacific Co-operative League store in Richmond. The stocks are being inventoried and will be placed under lock and key.

Thus is brought to a conclusion the most recent effort at establishing the co-operative movement on this coast. The plans of the Pacific Co-operative League interested prominent persons this side of the bay as well as in other cities of the state where they were established. In Berkeley they won a special vogue, a number of University of California faculty men and at least one former mayor being among the shareholders.

SIMILAR FATE HITS OTHER STORES.
A similar fate has fallen upon the entire string of stores maintained by the League throughout the state. The writs of attachment were issued after the Board of Trade had received and compiled a long list of indebtedness turned over to the board by the League's creditors in various parts of the state.

Simultaneously with the closing of the Eastbay stores comes word of the closing of three grocery stores maintained by the League at Eureka, Berkeley and Portola, and two others at Rio Del and Hydesville.

According to a statement given out today by the San Francisco Board of Trade, the closing of the stores will be followed by bankruptcy proceedings, which means that the co-operative plan will not be permitted to be revived under the present method of doing business.

STOCK SOLD AT $100 PER SHARE.
The co-operative enterprise was established in Arizona, Oregon, Nevada and other western states. Stock was sold there at $100 per share. Laboring men invested heavily on the promise that they would be enabled to buy supplies at far cheaper prices than elsewhere.

For some time past the League has been in financial difficulties and it was but a few weeks ago that the Board of Trade took a hand and made a sweeping investigation. The board represents all the chief creditors, principally supply houses and importing firms.

Pauline Lord Again Accused As a Vamp
Miss Pauline Lord, well-known about the bay as an actress, and who in 1908 married "Billy" Roche, and time prize fight manager in Oakland, again in trouble. This time she is charged by Mrs. Ruth Harris, wife of Mitchell Harris, a New York actor, with seducing his son, a 17-year-old boy, and with having had a child by him.

Miss Lord is now making weekly payments on a judgment suit secured against her by her husband, who is suing for $50,000 for the prize fight promoter and boxing referee, the sum of $5000 for alienation of affections.

Miss Lord is now the star of the "Anna Christie" company, now playing in New York. Harris is a member of the company of players.

LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE. TEXAS, Feb. 23.—Tex Rickard, boxing promoter, today was indicted twice by a Supreme court grand jury on charges of abducting Anna Hess and Nellie Gasko, young girls, both 15 years old.

The lower amount was fixed a few days ago when Rickard was charged with criminal assault upon two other girls, both 15 years old. Rickard pleaded not guilty to both indictments today, as he had done to those previously returned against him. The Hess girl is 11 years old and the Gasko girl is 11 years old. Resolution By Ryan of N. Y. Proposes Congressional Investigation of Statements Made By Colonel Abroad

Substitute For Brandegee's Treaty Changes Causes Stormy Session of Senate Foreign Relations Body

By J. BART CAMPBELL, International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—A resolution designed to bring about the recall from England of Ambassador Harvey was introduced today by Representative Ryan, Republican, New York. The measure proposes a congressional investigation of statements made by the ambassador while abroad with a view of having him detached from his post in London.

The purpose of the resolution as described by one committee member was that it provides that the United States understands that neither the preamble nor the terms of the treaty "contemplate the formation of an alliance, and that the United States is not committed to the defense" of any of the island or dominion possessions of other powers signatory to it "without the process provided by the constitution."

After more than an hour's debate, which failed to win over to the new proposal any of the Senators who had supported the Brandegee reservation, the committee adjourned until tomorrow without action.

Although Senator Lodge did not inform his colleagues specifically as to the attitude of the President, other committee members gained the impression that the modified reservation would be acceptable to the White House.

Those who found the reservation unacceptable were said to have argued that it did not fully cover the possibility that decisions reached under the treaty provisions might be binding on this government without congressional authorization. That possibility is specifically treated in the reservation of Senator Brandegee.

The committee will meet again tomorrow and in the meantime numerous conferences are to be held. At the same time the Senate itself had been in session for the purpose of debating the new proposal.

The House ways and means committee today agreed to a bill to provide for the recall of Ambassador Harvey from London.

A standing army of 100,000 and a navy enlisted personnel of 60,000 have been practically agreed on, according to Chairman Madden of the House appropriation committee, and Chairman Butler of the naval affairs committee.

3 Named in L. A. Murder Plot; Chinese Killed Taylor; Fields; Detroit "Confession" Arrives

Slaying of Taylor As 'Confessed' by Detroit Suspect

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23.—Picked out with answers to questions wired to Detroit by Sheriff W. I. Traeger, the Taylor murder "confession" made by Harry N. Fields, under arrest in the Michigan city, now is in the hands of the Los Angeles authorities in its entirety. Fields' story is as follows:

Taylor had declared war on the dope peddlers. He had administered a beating and used the toe of his boot on a "dope" peddler who had been around with drugs a motion picture actress in whom Taylor was interested.

In revenge, and to keep Taylor from ruining his business, this peddler swore to get him. "TAYLOR'S MURDER PLOT IN DETROIT TOWN."

The "dope" (whose full name has been furnished by this informant), conspired with a Chinese drug importer and two white women. They first talked over the murder plot in one of the beach towns.

With details fixed, they hired me to drive them to Taylor's home. (Fields confessed to being a drug addict himself, as well as a member of the distributing ring.)

The first night we were in the car, but Taylor did not come out and there was no opportunity to get into his house.

The next night—that of February 1—we drove first to a "hop joint" and later to Taylor's home. We waited around a while, and then saw Taylor come out of his house, escorted by Mabel Normand, who had been calling on him.

"X" (the murderer), who had been lurking in the side alley, slipped into the house. The two women moved along the sidewalk in opposite directions, acting as lookouts. I stayed in the car.

"X" crouched behind a piece of furniture and waited, according to the story he told us afterward. Taylor re-entered the house and seated himself at his desk.

"X" took aim from his place of concealment without wasting a minute. He fired a bullet into Taylor's back, Taylor fell to the floor, overturning the chair in which he had been sitting. "X" hurried from the house, not even pausing to ascertain if Taylor was dead.

He got into the car, as did the two lookouts, and I drove them away.

"X" BURIED GUN IN THE OUTSKIRTS OF CITY.
We went to a spot in the outskirts of the city, where "X" buried the gun. (The spot has been described in detail.) Early the next day "X" and I went to a bank (named), where "X" exchanged a $1000 note and gave me $500 of it for my part in the affair.

I took the next train out of Los Angeles and went to Buffalo.

CHINESE FIRED FATAL SHOT, FIELDS STATES.
DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 23.—(By International News Service.)—Harry Fields, county jail prisoner, today told authorities that he sat in an automobile with a bullet in the back of William Desmond Taylor, and heard the shot fired which resulted in the death of the film director.

Two men and a woman passenger, who had just entered the bungalow when the shot was fired, he said. One of the men was a Chinese, a wealthy leader in tong warfare and dope smuggling. It was this Chinese, who fired the shot that killed Taylor, Fields said.

"They told me nothing of the murder when they asked me to drive them to the Taylor home," Fields told authorities. "I did not know they were going to kidnap Taylor's daughter to get revenge for his having come between the dope smugglers and a prominent actress, who had once been a 'dope' addict. I drove them away from the Taylor bungalow after the shot was fired, waited for them while they buried the gun and then took them into downtown Los Angeles, where the Chinese buried the gun."

Fields said he was a drug addict, and that he had been in the drug business for some time. He said he was paid $500 for driving the automobile used by Taylor's slayer and that he fled from Los Angeles on the night of the murder.

PARTIAL CORROBORATION IN TAYLOR AL PLEA.
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23.—(By International News Service.)—Corroborating the "confession" of Harry N. Fields, alias "Harry the Chink," in Detroit, that he was a member of a drug peddling gang, the killed William Desmond Taylor, said film director, for revenge, it was learned today that, months ago, Taylor appealed to federal officers in Los Angeles to help him thwart the "dope ring" and save from its clutches the woman he is said to have loved, who was an addict.

The discovery that Taylor instigated a secret investigation by federal officers of traffic in drugs for the purpose of exposing the "dope" peddlers who were victimizing the woman, was concrete evidence to substantiate the theory of the slaying as disclosed by Fields.

Fields' story to Detroit officers was that the drug ring plotted to kill Taylor because he was interfering with their business. Taylor, the woman, enlisted the aid of the Federal authorities. He said he was paid $500 for driving the automobile used by Taylor's slayer and that he fled from Los Angeles on the night of the murder.

OFFICERS' CONFIDENCE IN STORY (RELEASED).
DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 23.—(By International News Service.)—Los Angeles officers admit that Harry M. Fields' revelations of events on the night of the murder of William Desmond Taylor have increased their confidence in his story, a story of the conspiracy to murder the director because he stood between them and a motion picture actress he was trying to save from their clutches, local authorities declare.

This woman had become a drug addict. Taylor induced her to go to a sanitarium for treatment. She was cured and returned to Hollywood to work in the studios. When the narcotic ring again attempted to drag her down, Taylor stepped in and tried to save her. He was killed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Investigation by the Senate Judiciary committee into the eligibility of Senator Burton (Rep., Ohio), to serve on the allied debt commission was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Senator Walsh (Dem., Montana). Action on the resolution went over.

Senator Walsh yesterday declared that Senator Burton and Representative Burton were not eligible under the constitution because, he said, they would become civil officers. This, Walsh said, was prohibited by law.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader, said that the committee inquiry proposed by Walsh would delay completion of the debt commission, and Senator Walsh amended his resolution so as to require a final report by the committee next Tuesday.

Roma Sailing Too Low, Italian Expert Claims

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Construction of any other large dirigibles by the army or navy will be strongly opposed by Representative Madden, Illinois, chairman of the powerful House appropriations committee. Because of the Roma disaster, Madden, after a call at the White House, said he had definitely decided to take steps through his committee to stop all appropriations for dirigible development.

By WEBSTER K. NOLAN, International News Service Staff Correspondent (Copyright, 1922, by International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Breaking of the control cable of the semi-rigid dirigible Roma was responsible for the disaster only because the vessel was flying too low, Lieutenant-Colonel Alessandro Guidoni, air attaché of the Italian embassy here, informed the International News Service. The ship was purchased from the Italian government and Colonel Guidoni was one of the negotiating officers. Had the cable snapped while the airship was sailing at greater altitude, the vessel could have been glided to earth with engines throttled, the toll of dead would have been zero and the grand flyer would have been intact, Colonel Guidoni declared.

COURTIER CATASTROPHE

"The Roma courtier catastrophe in skirting the earth," the Italian expert declared. "Colonel Guidoni is thoroughly familiar with the technique employed in the construction of the Roma, having studied it in the making in Italy."

"The danger in flying too low was never more forcefully demonstrated than in the sad fate of the Roma, the loss of whose precious human freight is felt most keenly by my government and by my people," Colonel Guidoni said.

Great commendation was given the commander and crew of the Roma by Colonel Guidoni, who asserted he knew most of them personally.

"I am firm in my belief that the accident was not caused by the failure on the part of the command to execute their difficult task in the most expert fashion," Guidoni said. "They could have done nothing more than they did, considering the height at which they were flying. There was no time and no use in shutting off the engines. There was not enough distance between the ship and the ground to right her in time. Had the charged transit wire not been struck there would have been no fire and no explosions. Had they had greater distance, the fall they could easily have righted the ship."

CABLE BREAK A TRIFLE

"The transit line was the cause of the horror; the mere breaking of the elevator cable was a trifling accident," he said. "The Roma had such great faith in the command of the Roma that I still feel there must have been some sensible reason for the Roma flying so low over uncharted terrain. It might not even have been necessary for the Roma to have glided to earth after the control cable broke. Such an accident could have been handled by mechanics in mid-air."

Italy has now completed plans for the Napoli, sister ship to the Roma.

Hardings Cancel Reception Plans Because of Roma

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Due to the Roma disaster and the mourning occasioned by the loss of the lives of army personnel, President and Mrs. Harding today announced postponement until April 19 of the army and navy reception, set for tonight at the White House.

Four thousand invitations had been issued to officers of the army and navy. After a conference between President Harding and Secretary Weeks, the White House issued the following announcement: "President and Mrs. Harding feel that a reception to the army and navy at a time when there is such deep grief over the bereavement attending the explosion of the Roma would not be in accord with the feelings of themselves or of their invited guests."

blame for the catastrophe, it was learned authoritatively today. The report, which is expected to be rendered late today or tomorrow, will hold that a "broken rudder" caused the Roma to nose-dive until it crashed at the army supply base at Hampton Roads. The board now is seeking to determine what defect resulted in the breaking of the rudder.

Officers and men of the Roma's crew, it was learned, will be upheld as having done all in their power to prevent the disaster.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Major General Patrick, chief of the army air service, is determined to uncover the real cause for the destruction of the army dirigible Roma, no matter what difficulties confront the board of inquiry, he told the United Press today.

Spurred on by reports emanating from certain army air service officers that the cause never would be made known, due to havoc wrought by the fall and fire and the death of thirty-four officers and men, he said, "We are not merely trying; we will find out."

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Feb. 23.—A statement was made today by Lieutenant-Colonel A. S. Fisher, chief of the lighter-than-air service at Langley field, home station of the ill-fated Roma, that "there was nothing wrong with the craft when she left here Tuesday on what proved to be her last flight."

In this connection, Fisher said: "Knowing Lieutenant Smythe as I did, I can't believe he has been correctly quoted relative to his letter in which he is said to have stated the Roma was unsafe."

Relative to the Washington trip of the Roma, the colonel added, "I desire to say that she behaved very nicely under most trying weather conditions. There was nothing wrong except our speed, which was a trifle slow at times on account of the Italian engines not working well in this climate."

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Feb. 23.—America began to bury her air dead this afternoon.

Captain Allan P. McFarland, slain in his observer's seat aboard the Roma, was the advance guard of the dead. His ghostly pathway led to Danville, Ill. Others soon to follow will journey into 20 different States.

While army planes droned softly high overhead and a church bell tolled its song to the dead near at hand, the body of McFarland left the morgue in the first Roma funeral procession.

Headed by time-honored military guard, the flag-draped coffin was taken to the "day boat" en route northward, to be transferred at Baltimore for the rail trip.

PAY AS WE GO IS POLICY URGED BY U. S. FINANCIERS

Huge American Debts To Prove Bigger Burden, Is Claim of Experts.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

LEADS WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 23.—America's position as a creditor nation probably will result in the use of American capital wherever business is done, Elliot Wadsworth, assistant secretary of the treasury, said in an address before the Boston Chamber of Commerce today.

The expansion depended, however, he added, on the maintaining of a "pay as we go" policy.

"We owe today twenty-three and one-half billion dollars, of which six and one-half billions is due in less than 18 months," Wadsworth said. "This is too large a proportion of floating debts for any business institution. Our federal budget so far has balanced, but next year we face a deficit. We are considering further expenditures for a bonus, for ship subsidies, for new federal activities. To meet the deficit, to pay for these new expenditures, the money should be provided from income, not by further borrowing."

"We have debts enough for future generations to care for. 'Pay as we go' must be the principle of financial management of this country or soon we will not be talking of lending money abroad and will really have cause to worry about the future."

Contrasting the great inflation of currency abroad with the situation in the United States, the assistant secretary said that in the aggregate the holders of Liberty bonds had made profit of two and one-half billion dollars in the last year and a half.

League Seeks Light On Disarmaments

PARIS, Feb. 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—The disarmament commission of the League of Nations today decided it would be necessary to have further light regarding the agreements concluded at Washington before proceeding further on the question of suppression of poisonous gases in warfare. The question of control of private manufacture and traffic of armaments also was declared to be depending largely upon ratification by the United States of the convention signed at St. Germain along with the peace treaty with Austria.

The secretariat of the league was asked to inquire of the other governments interested as to what results have been attained concerning the steps they were asked to take to obtain ratification of the convention by the United States.

Coal Miners' Strike Believed Inevitable

By FREDERICK G. NEUMEIER, United Press Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—A strike of bituminous coal miners April 1 seemed inevitable today. Only governmental intervention or a split in the ranks of the union and acceptance of a lower scale can avert the walkout, it is believed. The meeting called for Cleveland March 2 by twenty mine workers and operators will not be held, according to general opinion.

Congress Absolved By Aero Chieftain

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Blame for the disaster which overtook the giant army airship Roma does not rest with Congress, Major-General Patrick, chief of the air service, declared in a formal statement today.

"Statements that failure of Congress to appropriate funds for helium production and that the lack of helium caused the accident are not based on fact," he said. "Congress appropriated liberally for development of the processes of extracting helium during the war, and has since given all funds requested for further experimental work looking to perfecting the processes."

"The Roma disaster would have happened just the same had the ship been filled with helium instead of hydrogen. It is a sad accident, not an all probability the loss of life might not have been so great."

SURVEY FOR NEW POSTOFFICE IN CITY IS ORDERED

Treasury Department to Send Expert to Oakland to Investigate, Says Johnson.

Official action toward the establishment of a new postoffice building in this city has been taken, according to a telegram received by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce from Senator Hiram W. Johnson. Senator Johnson conveyed the information today to the local organization that he has received word from the supervising architect of the treasury department that a special representative will be sent to Oakland this week to investigate conditions.

The action of Senator Johnson in urging a new postoffice building follows a campaign of several years to have more adequate quarters for handling of local mail. Postmaster Joseph J. Rosborough urged the matter only recently when on a visit to Washington.

SITE IS UNDETERMINED.
Where the postoffice will be established has not yet been decided. Postmaster Rosborough recently announced that he would prefer to have it at the sixteenth street depot in order to centralize the shipments and delivery of mail.

In the event that the postoffice is established there, the main building would be converted to a branch office for the purpose of handling the downtown business mail.

The wire sent by Senator Johnson to Blanks Everett, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is as follows: "Oakland Chamber of Commerce, Oakland, Calif.
Addressed to: Blanks Everett, Secy. Oakland Chamber of Commerce, Oakland, Calif.
Supervising architect of the treasury department today informed me his office would send a special representative to Oakland within the next day or so, to investigate the postoffice situation in the city of Oakland, and to submit early report as to the necessity for a new postoffice building there."
(Signed) HIRAM W. JOHNSON.

BUILDING NEEDED.
Secretary Everett stated today that a new postoffice is necessary to the city's rapid growth. He said that when the government representative arrives from Washington the Chamber of Commerce, co-operating with the postmaster, will show him the need for a new postoffice building, which will be commensurate with its importance.

Everett stated that a postoffice building would be sought that will be commensurate with an estimate of Oakland's future growth as based upon its development in the past. Oakland is the most rapidly growing city on the Pacific Coast today, according to Everett.

Dramatic Club At U. C. to Play "Nero" April 15

MISS EVA BRADWAY, who will have important role in "Nero" to be produced on campus. —McCullagh photo.

Production Planned With Talented Thespians in Leading Roles.

BERKELEY, Feb. 23.—April 15 has been set as the date for the production of "Nero," semi-annual English club production, at the university.

The date was decided upon after days of uncertainty as to whether or not the play would be given and followed the agreement of the college dramatic council to "underwrite" the Greek theater spectacle. One of the most elaborate productions ever given by the college dramatic club is planned under the direction of Dan S. Marovich. The most talented college thespians have been chosen for the cast, among them Miss Eva Bradway, who played in last year's "Kismet." To further interest the public a poster contest has been arranged with a $10 prize for the winner.

HARVEY RECALL IS DEMANDED BY SENATOR REED

Missouri Solon Talking To Irish Freedom League Raps U. S. Ambassador.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—A denunciation of George Harvey, American ambassador to the Court of St. James, in which he urged that Ambassador Harvey be recalled and his "recent performances erased from the recollection of man," was made by Senator James A. Reed of Missouri last night in a speech before the Chicago council, Friends of Irish Freedom.

America has produced two great Georges: George Washington, the father of his country, and George Harvey, duly accredited ambassador to the Court of St. James, he said. "Washington was America's greatest patriot, Harvey is England's toady. Washington expressed the soul of America; Harvey the spirit of sycophancy and toadyism."

Washington addressed his country beneath the American flag; Harvey spoke to an audience of expatriate toadies, Tories and nobles beneath the union jack of Great Britain. Washington slept in honor, his memory fresh with the passing years. Harvey ought to be recalled and his recent performances erased from the memory of man. As I survey the field of the present and listen to the words of an American ambassador, in substance demanding a union of America with the British empire, and the continued insistence that America shall join herself in an entangling alliance with the world; when I consider the never-ceasing agitation in favor of a union between the United States and the British empire, there arises before my mind the vision of other days.

"Again I see the lantern in the old North church; I hear Paul Revere's rallying shout, 'The British are coming!' arousing the minute men to arms; the sharp reports of the first shots fired in the battle of freedom. At such a time as this, I sympathize with the heroic spirit of the revolution. I am, I think, justified in saying that the American people will not permit the American flag to be used as a banner for the British empire. I do not preach hatred for the British; I preach love for America. I am willing England should run her course, I seek no interference from the United States. I am willing we will be true to ourselves. We will steer by the stars Washington and the revolutionary fathers gave to the skies of liberty."

Woman of 93 Is Dead in Berkeley

BERKELEY, Feb. 23.—Mrs. Sarah A. Lawrence, for thirteen years a resident of this city, died last night at her home after a long illness. She was 93 years old. She was the widow of Harry Lawrence, for many years employed in the United States mint in San Francisco.

She is survived by the following children: Judge Edward Lawrence of Vancouver, B. C.; Daniel, Arthur, Harry and Milton, Mrs. Harriett Merthwe, all living here, and Mrs. Emily Dow of San Francisco.

IRISH WILL VOTE ON PEACE PACT; SIGNERS CALLED

Question Raised As To What Action British Parliament Will Take On Bill.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—The British government has invited the Irish signatories to the Anglo-Irish treaty to come to London for an early conference on the whole situation. It was announced in the House of Commons today by Winston Churchill, secretary for the colonies.

DUBLIN, Feb. 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—General satisfaction seems to be felt in southern Ireland over yesterday's decision of the Ard Fheis for a three months' adjournment at the end of which the people will be asked to vote on a constitution as well as on the Anglo-Irish treaty.

This opinion is not unanimous, however. Many heartily endorse the convention's ratification of the preservation of the Sinn Fein's unity, but some staunch supporters of the treaty are disappointed and inclined to agree with John McGee's declaration that "the agreement was clearly a republican victory."

One question much discussed in some quarters is what is going to happen to the treaty bill now before the imperial parliament, which is contained, as is agreed to a great extent by the Ard Fheis' decision. The correspondent of the Freeman's Journal writes: "The fact that the readers of both the papers were able to rise above their differences and to seek for a common ground as a good augury for the future. De Valera's attitude toward an appeal to the people at this stage brought the question of a general election to the forefront as the main issue at the private conference." "One may imagine that Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins were not convinced by argument that this was either an unwise or undesirable course; and they had, it would seem, to sink their personal views for the sake and in the hope of unity."

"The new agreement will certainly take away the slightest vestige of justification from the officers of the south Tipperary brigade whose proclamation against the Ard Fheis and their own general headquarters caused a sensation yesterday as a step toward anarchy."

The Freeman's Journal editorially says the people at large will receive the agreement with relief and joy equal to that of the delegates to the Ard Fheis.

English Mob Chases Mormon Missionaries

PLYMOUTH, England, Feb. 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Responding to a toast to "The Brotherhood of Nations" at the Chamber of Commerce banquet here last night, George Harvey, the American ambassador, said the foundation for such a brotherhood had just been laid at Washington.

"Our two best-loved, big-hearted peoples got together in what I am disposed to surmise will prove to have been in the nick of time," the ambassador declared. "They are going to stay together. Acquaintance, supplemented by circumstances and idiosyncrasies, have bowled up Britons and Americans into such other's arms. They are uncompromisingly compromised. Let it go at that."

"Here and now at Plymouth on Washington's birthday let us celebrate gloriously, but temperately, the happy first appearance of the brotherhood of nations."

George H. Heckebrand of the department of agriculture, was the principal speaker. He urged stockmen to co-operate with the state government in securing the passage of legislation beneficial to the stock interests.

"Eat more meat," he urged. "There never yet was a nation of vegetarians."

Among the other speakers were: T. S. McElroy, of the California Cattle Men's Association; J. I. Thompson, of the Swine Breeders; Fred Ellsworth of the California Wool Growers' Association; Frank Morris Woodland; J. W. Connel of Ferndale; Alex. Wilson of Guadalupe; Prof. E. C. Playground of Paris Made Textbook for Film Actress

MAE MURRAY, who studied sensational costumes in the Montmartre to prepare gowns for "PEACOCK ALLEY." This is one of them and one of the striking scenes from the play.

Mae Murray, at the American in "Peacock Alley," tells of adventures in gay French capital

Montmartre, Paris' famous playground of the night life and haunt of the Bohemians in the French capital, is echoed in its most dazzling form in "Peacock Alley," the spectacular Tiffany production in which Mae Murray is starring at the American. Miss Murray, with her husband, Robert Maclure, who directed the sensational masterpiece, passed months in the heart of the Paris joy zone, studying the costumes, the famous dancers, the customs of the cafes, and the intimate secrets of the famous region.

Mae Murray's "Peacock Alley" and wonderful dancing costumes have proved the sensation of Filmland since the completion of "Peacock Alley." The play itself is a love story set in the wild adventures of New York and Paris night life, and is marked by its spectacular scenes and costumes, many in color.

The crowds at the American this week have broken all records and the second week for "Peacock Alley" is being contemplated.—Advertisement.

FALL OF SOVIETS BY BANKRUPTCY NOW PREDICTED

Former Economic Advisor of Imperial Government Says
Financial Crash Coming.

WOBCESTER, Mass., Feb. 23.—(By Associated Press).—The prediction that it would not be long before the Russian soviet government would be a bankrupt and overthrown, was made by Dr. Joseph M. Goldstein in an address at a conference on Russian affairs at Clark university today. Dr. Goldstein was formerly director of the secretary of Moscow and for many years economic adviser to ministers under the imperial government.

The faulty economic policy of the imperial government, together with the increasing sufferings of the Russian soldiers created the basis for the Bolshevik coup d'etat, he said, adding: "What the war failed to do in the way of decreasing productive work in Russia, Bolshevik nationalization and socialization scheduled in doing, bringing Russia back to the list of the middle of the nineteenth century."

"To exist without producing is impossible for even the richest country. The accumulated wealth of Russia has quickly disappeared and it will not be long before the soviet government will be bankrupt and overthrown."

ROTARY GROWTH IS TOLD AT BIG MEETING OF CLUB

Total Membership Reaches
About 80,000, Speaker
Tells Organization.

The growth of Rotary was traced at the seventeenth anniversary of the organization celebrated by the Oakland Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting at the Hotel Oakland today.

The meeting was devoted in part to a study of the history of the club. The drama was organized by Paul P. Harris, a Chicago lawyer, and a small group of friends in 1905.

Today there are more than a thousand clubs in 25 countries, with a membership of about 80,000.

In connection with today's celebration it was pointed out that a Rotary club has the following purposes:

It desires to accomplish the betterment of the individual member and his business, both in a practical and an ideal way.

It aims to bring about the betterment of the community, business and profession as a whole.

It desires to accomplish the betterment of his home, his city, state and country.

With regard to the accomplishment of these purposes, the speaker pointed out that the organization had interested itself especially in the boys and girls.

It was stated that 25,000 boys and girls who were graduated from grammar schools in various parts of the country and who had determined to quit school and go to work, were sent to high schools last fall through the agencies of Rotary.

Attention was called to the importance of the Rotary Club's slogan. This slogan is: "He profits most who deserves best."

Engineers Control Huge Coal Mines

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Feb. 23.—An enterprise unique in the coal mining industry of West Virginia and Kentucky is revealed in the plans of the Coal River Coaleries company, a $2,000,000 corporation with headquarters in the city. The company is virtually owned by the locomotive engineers throughout the country belonging to the National Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Walter S. Stone, chief of the brotherhood, is chairman of the company's board of directors and William B. Prenter, also an executive of the brotherhood, is vice-president.

The engineer's company has acquired control of 5334 acres of coal land in Boone county and has recently taken over the Eureka Coal and Mining company's operations at Prestonsburg, Ky. The company has planned to establish its own retail yards in Cleveland, O., and in several advantageous spots throughout the Middle West.

Mrs. Mesdames Viola Farrell, J. A. Kykendall, Walter V. Walsh and Walter E. Janke, San Francisco society and clubwomen, have been enlisted by the Square and Compass players to assist them in presenting "When Thrones Trembled," Saturday evening, February 25, at the Oakland Auditorium.

Jesse M. Whited, author of the historical Masonic play, is well known in Masonic circles in California.

The story centers around the French Revolution and the first act takes place before and during a meeting of the Lodge of the Nine Muses, where Voltaire and Benjamin Franklin meet. The second act shows the tribunal of the Reign of Terror, with the most compelling and exciting scenes in Paris, July 17, 1793.

The last act takes place in Napoleon's library, and treats of historical instances in connection with the sale of the Louvre to France by the United States. Throughout the entire play run Masonic instances and historical events.

The thing to do is to wash the eggs and when you think that eggs have reached their lowest price, buy the necessary quantity and put them up in Silbente's Soda. It is quite important to get the best grade of Silbente's Soda and it is also important that you use unfertilized eggs that have not been washed.

Any reliable dealer can furnish you with the eggs if you tell him what you want them for and at Bowman's you can get the best grade of Silbente's Soda.

BERLIN BOTANIST WILL ADDRESS U. OF C. MEETING

Member of Japanese Restoration Commission Accorded Honors in S. F.

BERKELEY, Feb. 23.—Professor Otto Warburg of Berlin university, naturalist and botanist, who for the past few months has been touring the United States with the members of the Sokolow delegation, has been invited by President Barrows to speak at the University of California at the noon meeting tomorrow.

Professor Warburg, who is a cousin of Felix Warburg of New York, comes of a distinguished family of German Jews. His books on plant life are standards in all college libraries.

His experiments have been carried on in the Holy Land, or in similar latitudes, and when the plan of restoring Palestine as a Jewish homeland was first broached, Prof. Warburg became attracted to it, because of the tremendous agricultural and irrigation problems involved in restoring this long-arid land to fertility.

The Sokolow delegation comprises Nahum Sokolow, the Jewish delegate to the Versailles Peace conference, Prof. Warburg and Lieut. Col. John H. Patterson, who commanded the Zion Mule Corps in Gallipoli and the Jewish Legion in the Holy Land. The delegation has been received with distinction in every city.

In San Francisco on Wednesday Mayor Rolph held a special reception in his honor.

WOMEN SEE CHILD DROWN.
CALIFORNIA, Cal. Feb. 23.—While a group of women watched, afraid to attempt a rescue, an unidentified Mexican child about 3 years old was drowned in an irrigation canal near Estelle, according to word received here.

Zionist Envoys Honored By Jewish Women's Clubs

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—The Jewish Women's clubs of the bay region today tendered a reception and tea to Nahum Sokolow, of London, president of the international Zionist movement, and Professor Otto Warburg of Berlin, Sokolow's associate, who are here in connection with a nation-wide drive to obtain funds for the reestablishment of Palestine as the homeland of Jewry. The affair was held at the St. Francis hotel and was attended by hundreds of persons.

Those behind the Zionist movement are endeavoring to raise $100,000,000 in five years. The money is to be spent in financing industrial, civic and agricultural projects in Palestine, and in aiding Jews who go to Palestine to become residents, farmers or businessmen.

HELP FROM U. S. WANTED.
It is claimed one-fourth of the Jews in the world reside in the United States, and it is from these sources that the bulk of the money is expected to be contributed.

Under the treaty of Paris the Turks have been driven out of Palestine, it has been turned over to the Jewish race and it now is entering on a new era under a mandate of the League of Nations.

Sokolow and Professor Warburg arrived here yesterday from Los Angeles. Colonel John H. Patterson, who is a member of the party and who represents Great Britain in connection with the Zionist movement, will arrive later. He has been detained in the south by illness.

MAYOR MEETS ENVOYS.
The visitors were met at the depot by a committee composed of prominent Jewish residents, and city and county officials, headed by Mayor Rolph. They were escorted to the Palace hotel and later accorded a public reception in the chambers of the board of supervisors at the city hall.

The sky of California is the sky of Palestine, declared Sokolow in his address at the city hall. "The plants of your country will flourish in the valleys and hills of the ancient land of our forefathers."

"I bring greetings to this city from the city of Jerusalem, the oldest city in the world," he continued. "She is not so prosperous; she is much poorer than your beautiful city. But we hope to rebuild it and to return her to her former place among the nations of the world."

"Today is the birthday of the man of whom not only America, but the whole of humanity can be proud as an inspiration. Jewish boys in Palestine know all about George Washington."

HISTORY CITED.
"You had the same pioneer movement in the Seventeenth century to this country. They came to America to escape persecution. There are millions of Jews in Europe to which the doors of every country are closed. Even the quota that can come to hospitable America is filled and no more can come. These are looking to America as an inspiration. They want to pattern a new land upon the ideas of this one."

"Jerusalem is the cradle of religions. The Moslem, Jew and Christian draw their inspiration from her. Ultimately, Jerusalem will be the center of your new league of nations—the city of peace."

Prof. Otto Warburg said that factories are springing up in Palestine and that the time is coming when the nation will be able to go forward without outside assistance.

"Just at present," he said, "hundreds of thousands of Jews are trying to go to Palestine. But it is to the American Jew that it is left to make much of this possible. We have found a country where, instead of these people coming to America to escape persecution, they can go to a homeland of their own."

EDITORIAL

Some people are very much surprised to know that we sell an imported French face powder at 50c a box. These are good sized boxes and the powder is one of the best imported powders, as good as any you can get. It is shipped from France in bulk and boxed in this country, which saves considerable initial expense.

This powder is called Precade Face Powder and comes in various tints. It has been selling for several years and a great many of our customers tell us that it is the best face powder that they have ever known. It gives the pleasure of using.

AFTER YOU TAKE A SHAVE.

Some men object to shaving themselves for the reason that their face feels stiff and uncomfortable after the process. This unpleasant condition can be averted by using Bay Rum and Witch Hazel, a shaving compound especially put up for this purpose. It is best to use it before you begin to shave, so that you have the benefit of four healing, soothing substances put up in just the right proportion. It comes in an attractive spritzer or a bottle for 50c.

AN EXTRA GOOD TOOTH POWDER.

A great many people claim that a good tooth powder is better than a good tooth paste. The idea is that tooth powder gets into the depressions of the teeth and has better cleansing qualities than a tooth paste. This is a matter of individual preference, however, but if you prefer tooth powder we suggest that you try Listerine Tooth Powder. Dentists who have tried Listerine

FILMS ROLL IN FROM EVERYWHERE.

Customers All Over the Country.

Do you know that we receive rolls of films to be developed from all parts of the United States? We have even had films sent to us from New York City where there are hundreds of concerns who develop and print. The reason for this is that those who have patronized this department of our business have found that they get better clear prints at Bowman's than anywhere else in the United States.

People who are traveling throughout the world frequently hold that if they film until they can send them to us, preferring to wait for their pictures in order to be sure to get best results. The reason why our work is so superior is because we have the proper facilities for doing good work and because we take infinite care with each individual film. We do not develop in "batches" and we place a premium on good work instead of on the quantity turned out. Every print is inspected and we do not hesitate to send them back to be reprinted if we think they can be improved upon.

A SALT BATH

If you can really enjoy your bath, you should use a little Sea Salt in it.

You can get a good big package for 25c that will last a long time. The best results can be obtained from putting about one teaspoonful in an ordinary bath. You will find that it is wonderfully exhilarating and it makes you feel like you had just had a dip in the ocean. It is worth trying.

BIG FINE CHAMOIS

A couple of weeks ago we mentioned the splendid line of chamois skins that had just arrived.

You must pardon us for repeating this item but never before have we had such a fine assortment of really high-grade soft, oiled, tanned chamois in the large sizes that were so hard to get during the war.

Tooth Powder claim that it is about as near right as a tooth powder can be—25c.

NOT PLEASANT

Do you know we carry a full line of crutches and canes? We also carry elastic stockings and bandages of all sorts. These are not pleasant things to think about but if you should ever need them remember we are here with a big stock to serve you.

SHAVED HEAD IS MAN'S DEFENSE IN MURDER CASE

Hair Is Cut Away to Show That Accused Was Beaten Before He Shot Victim.

Court officials gasped when Antonio Bruzone entered Superior Judge L. S. Church's courtroom for the third day of his trial for the alleged murder of Gus Markowitz. In place of the bushy mop of black hair that had previously surmounted Bruzone's head, there was a gleaming expanse resembling a cue ball on a pool table.

"We wish to enter the defendant's head as Exhibit A for the defense," announced Senator Frank Carr, one of Bruzone's attorneys.

Carr then indicated upon Bruzone's bare scalp seven indentations, which he declared had been made by the impact of a monkey-wrench in the hands of Markowitz. "It was because Bruzone was being attacked in this fashion that he had to shoot Markowitz," said Carr. "That is going to be our defense. The defendant had his head shaved so that these dents made by the monkey-wrench could be exhibited to the jury."

Mrs. Goldie Markowitz, widow of the deceased, was placed on the witness stand by Deputy District Attorney Earl Warren today to establish the fact of her husband's death. She was accompanied to court by her two young daughters. She was followed on the witness stand by J. E. Hinz, East Oakland furniture dealer, who told of witnessing the fatal shooting.

CHAMPION HOLDS TITLE IN ANNUAL DOG TEAM RACE

Dog Derby Run in Fast Time in Zero Weather; Woman Is Contender in Race.

ASHITON, Ida., Feb. 23.—(By Associated Press.)—Driving through a heavy snowstorm which late in the afternoon turned to a blizzard, while the mercury sank to the zero mark, Tod Kent, American champion, successfully defended his title in the American dog derby here today against a field of eight contenders, including one woman.

Kent's time was 2 hours 35 minutes, and the distance covered twenty-five miles. Second in time was William Koch, who finished in 2 hours 45 minutes, while George Pilcher came in third in 2 hours 48 minutes.

Kent furnished the first big thrill of the derby when he was the first man to finish the first lap, in which he started third.

Fine examples of grit and endurance were furnished by Lydia Hutchison, the 20-year-old contender, who drove the entire twenty-five mile course and finished in a state of exhaustion, and by 14-year-old Olcott Farn.

Miss Hutchison was placed under the care of a physician immediately upon her arrival from the race course.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair naturally dark and lustrous. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get bottles of Weyl's Sage and Sulphur Shampoo at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not what we desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Weyl's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell because it is so natural, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application of two, your hair becomes naturally dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Advertisement.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

Neutralizes Stomach Acidity. Prevents Food Fermentation. Sour Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, pancreatin, charcoal, and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and despair, try the effect of a little Bismuth Magnesia. This is the only one that you can obtain from practically any drug store in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder with water after your next meal, and what a difference this makes. It not only relieves the indigestion, but the harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, bringing on gas, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated, lumpy feeling that seems to oppress you. It is the only one that you can take without any danger of pain or discomfort to the stomach, and moreover, the continued use of Bismuth Magnesia will keep the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.—Advertisement.

NEW RAILWAY PAY GAINS 10,000 FIREMEN, OILERS

No Overtime Until After Ten Hours in Schedule Drawn By Labor Board.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Another pay slash, this time hitting 10,000 railway firemen and oilers, was made by the United States Railroad Labor Board today when it announced rules effective March 1, eliminating extra pay until after the tenth hour and setting up a "split trick" of eight hours within a spread of twelve without any overtime pay.

Following several other decisions virtually restoring the ten-hour day for railroad workers, the board today authorized the roads to pay only pro rata wages after the regular eight hours which the board retained in principle as constituting a day's work. Time after one-half will be paid after ten hours. In the case of the split trick straight time will be paid for the first ten hours' work, whether included in the twelve-hour spread or not, and time and one-half will be given thereafter. Formerly the firemen and oilers, all of whom work around railroad shops, were paid time and one-half after eight hours.

Sundays and holidays will be paid for at the pro rata rate, a minimum of three hours' work being made for two hours' work or less. Monthly rated employees' wages are to be adjusted to eliminate the old time and one-half provisions.

"Business Is Good, Let's Make It Better," Is Slogan of Brush Salesmen in Convention

"Inside Stuff" on How to Start and Close Deals Told By Speakers.

"Business is good—let's make it better."

This was the slogan of the opening session of the Western division sales convention of the Fuller Brush Company salesmen at the Key Route Inn today.

Sixty-five salesmen representing every city where the company is established on the Pacific coast gathered in the convention room of the local hotel today with W. H. Metcalf, division manager, presiding.

The session opened with Fuller songs by the delegates, led by the official song leader, H. B. Fisher. Following the community singing Metcalf made his address of welcome and followed this with an outline of the purposes of the convention.

"This double annual convention has doubled the attendance our first convention had," said Metcalf, "which is in itself a fine indication of the advance of the company in the western territory."

RUSS EMPRESS CHAFED DURING IMPRISONMENT

Czar Nicholas Showed More
Calmness and Indifference to His Fate.

YKATERINBURG, Russia, Jan. 23.—(The Associated Press.)—Alexandra, the late Empress of Russia, never ceased to chafe under her imprisonment in this city, where she was finally executed, but the late Emperor Nicholas showed more calmness and indifference to his fate. A little booklet recently issued by P. Bykoff, former chairman of the Ekaterinburg Soviet, gives many intimate glimpses at the imperial family during the months they were prisoners of the Bolsheviks in this city just preceding their execution in July, 1918.

When the Czar and his wife and part of his family were transferred from Tobolsk to Ekaterinburg by the Soviet government, a residence in the center of the city was assigned to them. It was in the basement of this building that they were shot. Alexandra did not interfere with the activities of the imperial family in their own quarters.

AIR FREE, BUT YOU PAY FOR FURNACE COAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Advice to operators of house-heating furnaces, who under the keen urge of chill blasts of winter have applied to the Bureau of Mines for a solution of difficulties experienced in caring for their fires over night, is given in a statement made today by O. P. Hood, chief mechanical engineer of the bureau.

There are several ways of managing a furnace, as there are several ways of driving a horse, says Hood. The general principle is obvious, but that principle can be applied in different ways. In the process of combustion two quantities must be supplied—coal and air. The coal one gets for nothing, but the quantity of air required in weight is from twelve to twenty times as much as the quantity of coal required.

Given a bed of coals that are red hot, the fire will burn just in proportion as air is fed through the fuel bed. The question of keeping a fire overnight, Engineer Hood asserts, is one of having a bed of fuel large enough so that at least the center of it can keep red hot without being chilled by the cold sides of the furnace, or the cold ash pit below.

mitted to enter their new quarters the guards searched them. Alexandra protested bitterly and offered physical resistance. The Emperor submitted willingly, but was greatly perturbed. He paced the room while the search was proceeding and exclaimed: "The devil knows what it means! Up to now we have met courteous men and have had decent treatment!"

According to Bykoff, the Soviet officials made it clear to the Romanoffs that they were not at Tsarkoe Selo and threats to isolate the Emperor from his family if he offered criticism silenced him.

"Nicholas soon realized we were not joking," says the book, "and submitted uncomplainingly to the demands of the commandant, in charge of the house. He made few efforts to chat with the guards, but Alexandra never ceased breaking rules."

CHANCE TO EXERCISE.
The Romanoffs were permitted to select their own hours for walking in the garden and all sorts of tools were available if they cared to take more vigorous physical exercise. Two meals a day were supplied to them from "the best Soviet kitchen in Ekaterinburg," and they were given a gasoline stove, or stove upon which they could heat their food.

Food packages were forbidden to the imperial family, but Bykoff says, "The sisters in the local convent annoyed the guards greatly by sending parcels of biscuits and other delicacies which were distributed among the soldiers."

On Easter the imperial family asked permission to attend church. This request was denied, but a priest was admitted to their quarters to hold service and eggs and special cakes were sent to them by Soviet officials.

MURDER JURY DISAGREES.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Feb. 23.—Judge J. W. Mahon ordered the dismissal of the jury trying the case of Vincente Banducci, rancher, charged with the murder of Antonio Dai Poos, at 4:30 o'clock yesterday after it had deliberated for almost 20 hours without reaching a verdict. Banducci will be retried.

Counsel Methods Called Injustice

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Equality before the law is impossible so long as the rich and powerful are represented in court by highly educated lawyers while a large part of the poor and ignorant are represented by untrained and incompetent men. Judge Clarence N. Goodwin, of Chicago, declared in his opening address today as chairman of the conference of bar associations here. Until such a condition is corrected, he said, there will be little justice in the courts.

"During my years as a trial judge," the speaker said, "I was frequently distressed by the fact that one side or the other in the case before me was so incompetently represented by counsel, or represented by such ignorant counsel that, owing to the learning and skill of the attorneys on the other side, it seemed impossible

SENDS $3 FOR 30-CENT FARE OWED 19 YEARS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23.—For nineteen years the conscience of a man who gave his name as Frank B. Poen and who wrote from Elgin, Ill., gave him no peace because he had failed to pay 30 cents for a ride from Los Angeles to Pasadena on an electric car. So he wrote a letter to Mayor George E. Cryer of Los Angeles, telling about it and inclosing $3 with which he asked the mayor to pay the electric railway company the original 30 cents and compound interest for nineteen years.

Plays Phonograph Waiting Hangman

BENTON, Ill., Feb. 23.—John Savant, under sentence to hang for killing a delivery boy he accused of winking at his wife, has abandoned his efforts to die by starvation and is devoting his time to writing letters to his wife and to playing a phonograph.

Savant was under the impression that he would hang tomorrow, but the sheriff was notified today that he had been granted a reprieve until April 21.

MAYOR DENY MOVING.

S. F. Bootlegger Gets Jail Term in South

PASADENA, Feb. 23.—Charles Neumaier, said to be an agent of a San Francisco bootlegging establishment, is in the Pasadena city jail, sentenced to serve sixty days and pay a fine of $500 for violation of the municipal "dry" laws.

The officers said they found in Neumaier's possession a notebook containing names and addresses of Los Angeles business and social leaders as well as a number of persons prominent in the motion picture industry.

Neumaier was said to have had a comparatively large stock of bootleg liquor, including a concoction two weeks old which purported to have been bottled in bond in 1915. The price was $120 a case.

The growth of American trade with Egypt is shown by the increase of American ships in Egyptian ports.

WASHINGTON'S WATCH AND SEAL BRING BIG SUM

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—George Washington's gold watch, made in France in 1790, was sold for $3300 today—at a sale of many of the first president's relics belonging to William Lantier Washington, a great-grand nephew. A total of $15,052 was realized.

The watch is of 18-karat gold, engraved on the back with Washington's crest and also has a calendar attachment. A certified copy of the George Corbin Washington will, mentioning the watch, was sold with it.

Among other articles coming in direct descent from the Washington family was General Washington's gold seal with his coat of arms, which was bought by Oscar Lane for $1000.

DOG HELPED, BUT OWNER IS FINED

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—W. H. Clarkson took his three Russian wolf-hounds for their daily automobile tour, but speeded for home when one of the dogs took a chill and began to tremble violently. Policeman Robert McCaul halted him, and when Clarkson gave his reason for speeding the policeman quickly took off his heavy coat and buttoned it about the dog.

Clarkson, when the latter was fined $10 today he told the magistrate that it was worth that much to meet such a polite policeman.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS
Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water. Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and get it out in the urine. If the kidneys are also a means of getting the blood of its impurity, a damp and chilly cold weather, when the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, numbness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about an ounce of Jad Salts; mix a teaspoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of lemons and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.—Advertisement.

COULD HARDLY STAND AT TIMES
Rheumatism, Back and Legs would Have That Tired Ache

Everett, Washington.—“For several years I have had trouble with the lowest part of my back and my legs would ache with that tired ache. I could hardly stand on my feet at times. I was always able to do my work although I did not feel good. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and having heard several people say it I decided to try it. I feel better at the present time. It has done wonders for me and I keep it in my house right along. I always recommend it to others who are sick with rheumatism.”—Mrs. J. M. Sizer, 1224 High St., Everett, Washington.

“I do any kind of work, or to play that matter, is next to impossible when you are suffering from some form of female trouble. It may cause your back or your legs to ache, it may make you nervous and irritable. You are able to keep up and around, but you do not feel good.”

“Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for women. It is especially adapted to relieve the pain of the trouble and then these annoying pains, aches and ‘no good’ feelings disappear.”

Virginia Fairfax, an orphan, rebellious daughter of one of the first families of Virginia, tells her chum, Naomi Sanderson, of her intense feeling against the rigid attitudes of society and the tyranny of her grandfather, who adopted her when her parents died. Virginia considers to Naomi that she intends to run away from home to escape the tyrannical rule of her grandfather and her aunt, who is a devoted follower of her grandfather's plan. In the night after learning that her real family name is Virginia Winston. At the station Virginia, unfortunately, met her childhood lover, Eddie Montfort. He guessed her secret, protested against her plan, but proposed joining her in the scheme. Virginia dreams of her triumph to come till roused by the porter's call. At breakfast the day after the water-scented Virginia with a man of thirty-five who took a fatherly interest in her and seemed to be studying her.

A TRAIN COMPANION.
“When am I going to pull off your wings?” exclaimed the man opposite me at table. “Great Scott, child, what do you mean?”
“Well, you have been looking at me so intently and with such a peculiar expression that I was beginning to feel like a little fly you were examining through a microscope as we used to do at school. When we got through with them the boys always pulled off the fly's wings.”
“What a fanciful child you are! I want you to know that I never pulled off a fly's wings in my life and I would not harm you. Where are you going?”
“Tell me what you are doing, traveling alone across the country. I haven't met a girl as innocent as you since I was a boy down in the country where I was born. Your parents must be quite as innocent.”
“I have no parents and I am going to California to go in the movies.”
“Good Lord!”
“Don't look so horrified. I did not swear, child.”
I was silent. I wished the man would not keep calling me “child.” The waiter brought my order of fruit and toast and coffee and as I began to eat the man turned to his paper for a moment.

Evidently he was not interested in the news, for at last he laid the paper down and looked across at me again.
“You have friends in Los Angeles or Hollywood?”
“No.”
“At what studio are you going to work?”
“I haven't decided yet.”

The man made an exclamation under his breath that I did not catch, but I thought it sounded as though he had said “Good Lord!” again.
I hurried to finish my breakfast, for I could see that the woman with the baby was just paying for hers. I called my waiter and said: “Bring me my check.”
My vanity fairly glowed at the ease with which I said these words. In a story which I had read just the week before the heroine had used them to squelch the man who had deliberately seated himself at her table in a strange restaurant and had offered to pay for her dinner.
“Bring me my check,” she said quietly, “was the way it was put in the book.”
The man across from me made no effort to pay for my breakfast, but out of the corner of my eye I noticed that he was watching me closely. I could think of no other reason why he should do so except that he wanted to know how much money I had.

“Maybe he is a gentleman crook,” I said to myself as I recalled a detective story, and I remember how much I was pleased with the incongruity of the words “a gentleman crook.”
I was glad that I had taken out only two bills from my purse. “I guess he is disappointed,” I thought as I heard him draw a long breath as I ostentatiously contrived to show him that I had only two twenty-dollar bills.

He did not speak as I left the table and almost in pique I glanced back to see him engrossed in his paper. Apparently he had forgotten all about me.
“May I come and sit with you a little?” I said, catching up with the woman and her baby before we reached our car. “I would like to play with the baby a little while if you do not mind. I love babies.”
“Of course I do not mind, my dear. I would love to have you play with him. You see he has a sister that I think is about your age and I sometimes think he loves his sister better than he does me. He is rather fretful this morning because last night is the first time he has ever slept in such a stuffy place as a sleeping car. I hope he didn't disturb you.”

“He didn't disturb me at all, although I heard him. I really was glad to know that there were mothers and babies in the car. For you and I never was in a sleeping car before, either, and I, too, felt as though I were smothering all the time.”
“Are you going far?”
“I am going to Los Angeles.”
“Going to meet friends there?”
I froze up. Why did everybody think I had no business traveling alone?
“No. I do not know any one in Los Angeles.”
My answer was so short that the baby drew his chubby hands away from my face and looked at me with trembling lip.

The woman said nothing and I grew ashamed of myself. “I am going to Los Angeles,” I explained, “to go into one of the moving picture companies.”
“Do you know anything about them? Have you already a position?”
“I really know nothing about moving pictures and I do not even know how I shall go about getting a position. But I do not know how to do anything else either and I must earn my own living in the future, so I thought I might as well start in learning something that I think I would like to do. They must have thousands of extra girls in the pictures. Look at the mobs we see on the screen in the dances and other crowds. I probably can get in as an extra at a moving picture plant just as easily as I can get a job in a millinery store or an office.”
“You certainly have courage, my dear.”

I glowed at the compliment, but I since have learned that it was not courage that I had, but the most abysmal ignorance.

Apparent At Exhibition of Industry.

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 23.—One million feet of floor space covered with shimmering glassware—tumblers, goblets and glasses—and hardly a container among them for anything stronger than one-half of one per cent.

This was the Volstead-Inspired situation revealed at the annual glass, pottery and house furnishings exhibition which has just closed here. Three hundred manufacturers of glassware were represented with exhibits showing a variety of articles in glass for home use, but the dainty liqueur containers that formed a glittering part of the previous showings were missing.

As allied arms drove Germans out of France, so the Eighteenth amendment, aimed solely at intoxicants, sideswiped an important branch of the glass industry, forcing it into other lines or out of business. Exhibitors of barroom supplies, an industry of considerable dimensions four years ago, were conspicuously missing. Here and there, however, reposing on back shelves where they were hardly noticeable, were occasional showings of wine glasses, the last guard of the vanishing army of intoxicant containers.

Manufacturers' representatives at the exhibit showed slight interest at the mention of such glassware as depends upon liquors for its usefulness. Quite unanimously they declared that the demand is insignificant. A few fine glasses, in occasional sets of goblets are all that are being sold. Tankards have disappeared completely.

Prohibition has not affected the prosperity of the glass industry, however, despite the deep inroads it cut, exhibitors declared. Manufacturers who formerly supplied glassware essential to liquor consumption have turned their attention to making other tableware, which course is proving fully as remunerative, they said.

Strength of Timbers To Be Tested in N. Y.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Announcement was made today at the testing laboratory of the department of civil engineering at Columbia University that it would be two months before experiments were completed to determine the strength of Southern yellow pine and Douglas fir timbers available in commercial lumber yards in New York.

The tests are being made under the auspices of the superintendents of building in the city's five boroughs to establish equitable grading rules and working stresses for submission to the Board of Aldermen to be considered in connection with recommended revisions of the sections of the building code governing timber construction.

Fiji Sugar Mills Are Being Closed

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Jan. 15.—(By Mail).—The Colonial Sugar Company, whose activities have been the mainstay of Fiji for some forty years, has announced that the fall in sugar value on the world's markets has rendered it impossible for the concern to continue paying higher than pre-war rates for cane.

Sugar growing in Fiji has to compete with the staple grown in other tropical countries where cheaper labor is utilized, the wages in Fiji being more than double the scale elsewhere, the company stated. The Fiji-Vancouver Sugar Company decided to close its mill and estates in Fiji while another large sugar company, with headquarters in Melbourne and estates in Fiji, probably will duplicate the action soon.

Column of News

40 years ago

Many people suffered and died with "inflammation of the bowels." Appendicitis had not been discovered, or as we sometimes say, had not become fashionable.

We do joke about the new diseases, but when we stop to think a moment we know that they are not new but very, very old and that much suffering and unhappiness might have been spared folks in days gone by if doctors had performed more appendix operations.

But today

While we have appendicitis, we still have inflammation of the bowels, an ailment that is painful in the extreme. But we also have Adierke, a remedy long tried and often proven for bowel trouble. Ask us about its benefits. A large bottle $1.00.

Felt Rugs

Did you ever see a felt rug? It is a most serviceable floor covering for places where there is lots of hard wear. It will not burn; it is in soft color that will look about the same even if they fade; and it can be washed with a scrub brush. For the bathroom, in front of the fireplace, or on the porch it is practical and pleasant. We have four sizes:

20x36	$1.15
24x50	$2.25
28x58	$2.65
35x72	$3.75

See them in our basement.

Beware Colds

It seems as if almost every one is doomed to take a turn at the prevailing sickness, for one after another your friends drop out of their little two or three-day session.

But what's the use of having it all. Care is practically all that is needed to avoid it. Keep your system in condition and you won't be sick.

Watch a cold! Don't let it get bad. We have a number of excellent remedies for colds and their complications.

Turpo is one of them. "An old-fashioned remedy in new-fashioned form"—a modern method of applying the benefits of turpentine. For colds in the chest, lameness and similar complaints.

MIDDLE WEST IN GRIP OF WORST WINTER'S STORM

Drop in Temperature Turns Rain To Sleet and Cities Suffer.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—The cold wave that has held the whole north-west in its grip for more than 24 hours continued there today and spread down through Iowa, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas and northern Texas, as well as east of the Mississippi river. By tonight the thermometer is expected to hover about the 10 to above zero mark.

In Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and northern Texas, the warm, soaking rains of yesterday had turned to sleet today with the sudden drop of temperature to below freezing.

In the northwest, temperatures continued to fall, with the mark reaching from five to twelve below zero in Minnesota and the Dakotas. Train schedules and wire communications were still seriously interrupted.

One death was reported at Rochester, Minn., through a short circuited electric wire, due to the storm. Many trains running out of Minneapolis and St. Paul were from 3 to 24 hours late and several were reported stalled in drifts.

WIRES ARE DOWN.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—A telegraph circuit more than 2000 miles long to carry news despatches on air line distance of less than 400 miles has been necessitated by the heavy sleet and snow storms sweeping across the northern part of the United States.

Early Wednesday the Associated Press lost connection with all points north of Milwaukee, Wis., because of the storms which have virtually isolated Minnesota and Northern Wisconsin. Early today communication with the Twin Cities was established through a telegraph circuit extending from Chicago through St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Billings, Mont., and back through Fargo, N. D., into St. Paul. This circuit failed to last, however, and after a short time another circuit was set up running from Chicago to New York, up to Toronto, Canada, back to Winnipeg, Canada, and into St. Paul. On this circuit points in Minnesota now are receiving the news of the world.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Storm warnings were ordered hoisted today from Delaware breakwater to Eastport, Maine.

San Leandro Church Building Discussed

SAN LEANDRO, Feb. 23.—The proposed building of a new Presbyterian church in San Leandro is a subject that has aroused much discussion among the officers, trustees and members. A building site has been sought, but as yet the desired location has not been found.

Following the discussion of the proposed new building a motion to make extensive additions to the present church building was presented by Dr. R. S. Donaldson at a recent meeting. It was Donaldson's contention that a complete overhauling and enlargement of the present edifice would be more desirable than the construction of a new building.

It was proposed by Donaldson to build the addition in such a way that the church would be in the form of a horseshoe, with a fountain in the center.

St. Joseph's Club Dance Plans Complete

Arrangements have been completed for the annual pre-Lenten dance which is to be given by the members of St. Joseph's Athletic club tomorrow night at Maple hall.

Several hundred invitations have been mailed out and the committee looks for a capacity crowd. The committee in charge of the affair is the Misses Catherine A. Mullen, Viola G. Fenelon, Alice J. Rappold, Josephine L. Braun, Rose L. Brady, Messrs. Edward T. Fenelon, Percy R. Read, Leo F. Rappold, Harry J. Lemos and Joseph A. Mullen.

T. & D.

Local movie fans agree that in "Wedding Bells" the picture has scored one of the most pleasing hits. The story is from the stage play by Sullivan Field, and has been made funnier by the injection of a number of additional comedy situations and the clever acting of the star and her supporting cast which includes Harrison Ford.

Anita Stewart in "The Invisible Fear" is also at the head of this week. It is a tale of thrills, suspense, adventure and romance.

Starting Sunday William Hoffman and the T. and D. concert orchestra will be introduced. The playboys will be "The Child Thou Gavest Me," starring William Hoffman, Lewis Stone, Barbara Kingston and Richard Headrick, the child actor, and "Sky High," starring Tom Mix.

LOEW'S STATE

For scenic beauty and clever acting, "The Flower of the North," the big James Oliver Curwood special now being shown at Loew's State theater, cannot be excelled.

The cast is headed by such well-known players as Henry B. Walthall, "Birth of a Nation" fame and Pauline Starke.

Surprising with their rendition of modern music, the Kee Tom Four, Chinese harmonists, lead the vaudeville for the second half of the week. The Pease Duo appear as the "Harpe" and the singer, "Adams and George" win applause in original hits of vaudeville, "Then and Now," Mack and Company are offering a legitimate, comic play for family situations and rare humor Oakland has never had anything any better and "The Girl in the Mail" is the picture feature at Loew's State theater beginning Sunday.

PANTAGES

One dozen men who play brass instruments, superbly and finely, all under the leadership of Al Sweet, are offered as the chief attraction of Loew's State theater starting Sunday afternoon next.

An added feature attraction to the bill will be the Mendoza in "The Globe of Fate," the original death-defying motorcycle riders.

The Pan-American Four sing and play the delightful "Echoes of the West," are versatile rangers who introduce something new in rope twirling.

Green and Dunbar in "Without Rhyme or Reason" afford the laughs on the program in full measure.

Early William in "Lucky Carson" will be the photodrama, a worthwhile production.

ORPHEUM

Syncope at its best, a screamingly funny travesty, a double act of snap and pep and a miniature circus are included in the headline attractions billed for the Oakland Orpheum for the week beginning with the matinee next Sunday.

Dave Harris, who sings and plays innumerable instruments with true artistry and his seven jazz exponents will be one of the chief features of the new bill. "A Dream of Happiness," a travesty, in one act, is along the order of "For Pity's Sake," Howard's Spectacle is presented by exceptionally well-trained, criss and canines. Pierce Keegan and Marjorie O'Rourke have a snappy little scene.

Vincent Redford and Gene Winchester in versatile nonsense are clever eccentric jugglers. Bill Robinson, "the dark cloud of joy," will be another fun feature. Leo Zarrell Duo, acrobats supreme, will add novelty to the bill.

Films will include Topics of the Day, Asop's Fables and a News Weekly, with a special musical program under the direction of Claude Sweeten.

FULTON

The Fulton theater on next Sunday afternoon will present "Up in Mabel's Room," a play of limitless fun. Nana Bryant as Mabel and Herland Tucker as Garry will have their hands full handling this fast, rolling, laughing riot. Both excel in farce and will be seen at their best. John Lister, Albert Van Antwerp, Marie Walcamp, George R. Taylor, Helen Audiffred, George Rand and Barbara Lee complete the cast.

This week the great Cape Cod comedy, "Shavings," is being admirably produced by the Fulton Players. Capacity houses proclaim it the finest play produced at the Fulton this season.

AMERICAN

"Peacock Alley," a film production which does full justice to all the glamour and glitter of New York and Parisian night life and which heaps new luster upon the name of Mae Murray, is drawing immense crowds to the American theater, where the production is now having its Oakland premiere.

The picture seems especially constructed for Mae Murray. It is from the story by Ouida Bergere, and is directed and presented by Robert Z. Leonard, husband of Mae Murray.

Topics of the Day and a specially arranged program by John Wharry Lewis and his orchestra round out the attractive bill.

NEW CHIMES

Katherine McDonald and Bebe Daniels share honors on the bill at the New Chimes theater today. Katherine Mac Donald in her latest starring vehicle portrays four splendid roles "Stranger Than Fiction" is the picture, and it contains great human interest as well as delicate comedy and distinctive beauty in photoplay and settings.

In the cast supporting Miss MacDonald are many actors of note, including Wesley (Freckles) Barry, "The Speedy Girl," starring Bebe Daniels is all that the name implies. Theodore Von Eltz is leading man and Walter Theirs, Frank Elliott, Norris Johnson and other complete the list of experienced screen actors who are seen.

FRANKLIN

"Tip Van Winkle" is delightful. New Franklin audiences this week. Much of the success of this American classic is due to the fine portrayal of old man Rip by Thomas Jefferson. It was his father, Joe Jefferson, who for a year played the same role on the American stage and whose son ably follows his father's footsteps. The second feature on the program is Herbert Rawlinson in a virile drama of a young construction engineer who fights his way to the top in spite of unmountable obstacles. The picture is aptly entitled "The Scrapper."

This interesting double program will be followed Saturday by Wiley Field in a bear of a comedy, "Rent Free."

AUDITORIUM

The greatest theatrical undertaking on record, bringing across the Atlantic a company of seventy and a shipload of scenery, will be set well on its way when Albert de Courville and his "London Follies" company appear at the Auditorium theater on Monday, February 27, for four days.

The de Courville company is American to present a series of his celebrated reviews. He has expended over $50,000 in this venture. He will bring with him one artist who is probably the best-known and most popular personality on the movie stage in the world today. Harry Tate is known to almost every soldier who served overseas, as well as to millions by "De Courville" who present here a review which he has specially written and prepared for America.

SAN LEANDRO, Feb. 23.—A communication from W. E. Burdett, deputy tax collector, has been received by J. J. ACCUSED MAN IS KILLED IN PLUNGE FROM HOTEL ROOF

Salesman Arrested in Oakland
Jumps To His Death
From S. F. Building.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—After a night of worry over his arrest on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, Charles W. Guy, a salesman of Pasadena, died from the roof of the Maryland hotel, 490 Geary street, falling to his death, shortly before 8 o'clock this morning.

Last night was Guy's first night of liberty for ten days. His brother, A. B. Guy of Los Angeles, had come here to aid him in his defense and succeeded in obtaining his release on bail. Shortly after 7 o'clock Charles Guy went to his brother's room and told him that he was going down stairs to "phone and would meet him later in the Hotel St. Francis lobby. Within a few moments Guy had made his way to the roof and jumped. His body was found on Derby street at the rear of the hotel. He was dead on arriving at the Central Emergency hospital.

ARRESTED IN OAKLAND.
Guy was taken into custody at the Hotel Harrison in Oakland. The complaining witness was Frank J. Mathieson, of 441 Twenty-fourth street. According to Detective Edward Wiskott, Guy advertised for a partner in a manufacturer's agency. Mathieson responded, putting up $250, and the two went to Portland together. There an agent and Mathieson were left by Guy, according to the police. Guy proceeded to Seattle.

Later a warrant was sworn out for his arrest in Police Judge Jack's court and he was taken into custody. He was married and is said to have left a family in Pasadena.

WITH PASADENA FIRM.
PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 23.—Charles W. Guy, who killed himself by leaping from a San Francisco hotel today, was connected with a Pasadena company here and went north two weeks ago for the purpose of establishing jobbers' connections for his company. Shortly after his arrival there, the company there was informed that Guy had threatened to sell the territory rights, authorized by the officials of his company.

Officer Puzzled By
Tangle of Names

SALINAS, Feb. 23.—Is Leopold Vogel, of El Centro, the Leopold Vogel who recently defrauded a Monterey man out of a large sum of money by telling a pitiful story about a sick wife and no job?

This question is puzzling Deputy Sheriff W. A. Oyer, who went to El Centro to arrest the man, but who returned here without him. Photographs of the Monterey Vogel tally exactly with the El Centro Vogel. Passports of the latter, however, issued by the Swiss government, and time-books kept by his employers in the El Centro, he stated to sell the same as the Monterey Vogel. Oyer went from here last Saturday to bring the El Centro man back under arrest but when he arrived at the El Centro he was confronted by a peculiar situation as the employers of the El Centro Vogel were willing to go his bond, stating that he had been in their employ ever since his arrival and that their time-books showed he had been steadily employed and that to their knowledge he had never been out of that vicinity. So Oyer returned without his much-sought victim, a sadly puzzled sleuth.

Tries To Wring Wife's
Neck, Held For Trial

JACKSON, Feb. 23.—Marco Ellisovich, charged with mayhem on the person of his wife, was held in $10,000 bail to answer in the superior court. He is unable to furnish bail. At the hearing his wife, with her face swathed in bandages, testified that he sneaked up behind her as she was in her way home from work, struck her on the back of the head with a rock, attempted to twist her head off, beat her in the face and then bit almost half of her nose off. She is suing him for $10,000 on grounds of extreme cruelty, and this it is believed, led to the alleged fiendish attack.

COONTZ OPPOSED TO PROPOSED NAVY PERSONNEL CUT

Admiral Declares At Least
90,000 Men Should Be Retained.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—After Admiral Coontz, chief of naval operations, had reiterated to the House naval committee today that he stood against Secretary Denby's recommendation for an appropriation of $350,000,000 with 90,000 enlisted men, Chairman Butler and other members gave warning that the House would not be disposed to appropriate more than $200,000,000.

Chairman Butler indicated that the appropriation bill would provide only for about 60,000 enlisted men, and Admiral Coontz declared careful figuring by the department had shown the need of at least 63,500 afloat.

"I sit as a member of the committee of fifteen at the arms conference," said the admiral, "and I know what the foreigners thought. In my honest judgment 90,000 men is the least we should have and I stand on that. If congress cuts the number to 60,000 or 50,000 that's its job."

Representative Hicks, Republican, New York, describing himself as a big navy man, declared that after talking with members of the appropriations committee he believed the navy bill would carry much more than $200,000,000.

"Cutting the navy is much like attending the funeral of my best friend, but I believe the American people are demanding a reduction," he said. "The time to cut the personnel has come and it is my idea that the enlisted total will be around 80,000."

Admiral Coontz gave the committee a list of 42 old ships which would be withdrawn.

After a running fire of questions, Chairman Butler asked Admiral Coontz if the department was ready to stand with the committee. "I figure," in view of the apparent determination of the House to reduce the Denby estimate almost by half.

The admiral replied that Secretary Denby's estimate was based on that, and Butler explained that a further report from the secretary would be presented within the next few days.

After the ceremony the wedding party adjourned to Darr hall, in Livermore where an elaborate wedding dinner was served. Upon the completion of the dinner the young couple left on a honeymoon through the southern part of the state.

The bride is a daughter of one of the pioneer families of the valley and she has a host of relatives and friends here. She is a graduate of the high school here and also a graduate of the Merritt hospital of Oakland.

The groom is a son of Mrs. A. Stebbins of Oakland and is a student at the University of California, taking a course in foreign trade. They will make their home in Oakland upon their return from their honeymoon.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advertisement.

TODAY'S BEAUTY TALK

You can enjoy a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost, if you get from your druggist a package of canthrox and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid—enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and hair until both are evenly covered by the daintily perfumed preparation that thoroughly dissolves and removes every bit of dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing, the hair dries quickly with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure.—Advertisement.

CELLS FULL, ONE DEAD, BUT STILL LAUDS SOBRIETY

GARY, Ind., Feb. 23.—William Miller, desk sergeant at the Gary police station, was being interviewed yesterday by an investigator from the Anti-Saloon League. "There isn't as much drunkenness now as there was before prohibition came into effect," the policeman said.

"Do they get as drunk as they did when the saloons were running?" the investigator asked. "No, not nearly so drunk," the desk sergeant said. Just then a policeman entered the station, carrying a stretcher on which reposed a Gary man asleep with the marks of the gutter on his clothes.

"Another moonshine case, Sergeant," one of the policemen said. "Where shall we put him? All the cells are full."

"No, they're not," the sergeant believed; "one guy just died and we just sent him to the morgue."

Millionaire Carries $400,000 in Satchel

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23.—William Wendi, Los Angeles millionaire, who was taken into custody on a warrant and complaint charging insanity, was today a prisoner in the psychopathic ward of the Los Angeles county hospital.

Detectors found him at a railroad station where, it was believed, he was planning to board a train for El Paso, Tex. In his pockets, they said, they located bonds and stocks valued at $250,000, and in a hotel $400,000 in currency. He was said to have carried both in a small grip which he left his hotel this morning.

A reception and tea at the Hotel Oakland is announced for Thursday afternoon, the Eastbay chapters uniting as hostesses.

Petray, chairman, to take steps toward providing for the financing of two additional students. A silver tea which will mark the finale of the annual Mothers' Play Day at the Young Women's Christian association, will complete the third gift. Although the federation has carried students through the classroom when misfortune befell, it has been done quietly through the school principals and not even the child receiving assistance has been told who the fairy godmother was. In the future the mothers will take over the responsibility of their own educational service, selecting the student and claiming recognition.

Endorsement of the 24-hour day school, popularly known as the parental school, has been given by the mothers of the city. A communication

MILLIONAIRE TOO ILL TO APPEAR AT WRIT HEARING

Jafet Lindenberg Confined With Flu To Face Legal Fight Saturday.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—Jafet Lindenberg, millionaire broker, accused of misdemeanor conspiracy in connection with the wrecking of a bank at Tacoma, was still confined to his bed from influenza today and unable to appear before Superior Judge Harold Louderback in connection with a writ of habeas corpus issued in his behalf. A certificate from his physician, Dr. Arthur Penzance, was presented by his counsel, Attorney Maxwell McNutt. Assistant District Attorney Robert Fitzgerald appeared for the state, while associated with him was Attorney James Hanley, representing the officials of the state of Washington. W. B. Severyns, special agent, and Rex S. Roubush, deputy prosecutor of Tacoma, McNutt said that Lindenberg was in no condition to leave his bed. Judge Louderback explained that he was very busy today and tomorrow and continued the case for argument until 10:30 Saturday morning.

Lindenberg had been arrested on a governor's warrant of extradition. He was liberated on a habeas corpus writ. The prosecuting attorney has filed an answer to this writ and a reply to that answer known as a "traverse" will be placed on record Saturday by McNutt.

An attempt to arrest Lindenberg Tuesday morning was prevented by Attorney William H. Metson, brother-in-law of the accused, who with a shotgun held police detectives at bay.

A SOUND NAVAL POLICY.

In connection with the new naval appropriation act, now under consideration, Congress is expected to give evidence that it possesses a brain. If it takes a course calculated to destroy the personnel and facilities for training that personnel it will commit an act of idiocy, showing complete absence of brain.

A proposal has been made by certain members of the House of Representatives to turn back the graduating class of Annapolis naval academy this year into civil life. This would be a most regrettable folly. More junior officers and better trained junior officers are sorely needed in the navy. The government has borne the cost of four years of training the senior class at Annapolis. These young men are ready to be midshipmen or ensigns. They are a guarantee that twenty years hence the country will have a certain number of competent naval officers to command its ships—that is, if Congress does not scrap this valuable unit of personnel.

Congress also is considering a reduction in Secretary Denby's estimates of appropriations that will make the retention of necessary enlisted personnel utterly impossible. The Tribune discussed this phase of the question a few days ago and pointed out that the navy authorized under the armament limitations treaty will be larger than the commissioned navy of today; that all the dreadnaughts now in commission are carrying short crews; that 235 of our 300 destroyers are tied up in ordinary because of insufficient crews; that all maneuvers are at a standstill because of shortage of men and money to buy necessary fuel; that many ships will go through the year without firing a gun in target practice.

If the naval program as it existed before the convening of the Washington conference had not been modified it would have cost about $600,000,000 annually to carry out. As a result of the change in plans, Mr. Denby asks Congress for an appropriation of $350,000,000. This is a reduction of a quarter of a billion in naval expenditure. The amount requested is calculated to enable the maintenance of the navy at a point of efficiency reasonably near—not exactly—the treaty ratio of 5-5-3. But a certain faction in Congress wants to go further; instead of limitation it aims at destruction.

Admiral Robert E. Coontz, chief of operations, reminded the House naval affairs committee last week that the result of the Washington conference will be to place upon each signatory power the onus of keeping its tonnage allowance up to razor edge efficiency. The measure of the ratio of 5-5-3 will be the efficiency and sufficiency of the personnel. No other nation has taken any actual steps toward reducing its personnel by an amount proportionate to that recommended by Secretary Denby. He advised against any reduction in enlisted men below 90,000, in addition to 6000 apprentices.

Reduction to this total would involve taking 6400 men off 100 destroyers, which would be laid up. The destroyers would deteriorate if laid up. Admiral Coontz told the committee, even with the best care. He recommended graduation of the present first class at the Naval Academy, but urged that Congressional appointments be reduced. On the subject of war vessels the admiral said:

"In my judgment, at the present time, it is our paramount duty to keep up the combatant fleet. In it lies the safety of the United States, and all parts of the navy not connected with the fleet and its personnel are in the line of auxiliaries. It is realized that sacrifices must be made and economies effected. Should we reduce below the minimum stated by the secretary of the navy yesterday, it will be a reduction by example and not by agreement. The fleet as at present constituted should be kept up to proper efficiency, and all expenditures of whatever character should be shaped to that end. Those not of military character should be lopped off first, for in the final summing up the fleet is the navy. All of our battleships should have at least a 95 per cent complement."

Admiral Coontz is not a "big navy" advocate. He has always been for a well balanced, efficient navy. He lent the most important technical advice in the drafting of the American program of navy limitation and a naval holiday adopted by the Washington conference. His views are sound, rational and safe. They should be adopted by Congress as the basis of the future naval policy of the country. They square with the obligations assumed under the international naval agreement and at the same time guarantee reasonable protection for the United States in the face of any emergency that may develop.

THE ROMA TRAGEDY.

Another lamentable tragedy connected with lighter than air machines! The gas bag of the Roma, giant semi-dirigible purchased by the government from Italy, exploded yesterday while the ship was being maneuvered over Hampton Roads. Thirty-three lives were lost.

This accident is almost a duplicate of that which befell the dirigible which the government had purchased from England which collapsed, exploded and plunged into the River Humber, near Hull. It is like many similar accidents to German dirigibles before and during the late war.

The difficulty of solving the structural problem of providing for the shifting pressure on so large a surface exposed to the shifting wind and the use of explosive gas are the dangerous factors in lighter-than-air craft. Helium gas, of which this country has an abundant supply, may remove the danger of explosion. Safe construction with essential absence of weight has not yet been achieved.

TRAFFICKING BRIDES.

There is no record of just how the thing started, this series of offers on the part of young women to become somebody's wife if paid $1000 or so to relieve distress in a family or to get a college education. But in practice it is nauseating.

It advertises and legalizes a traffic in marriageable girls, in which the girl puts herself on the block. She fixes an upset price, just as a federal judge does for a bankrupt railroad, and offers to take the best qualified bidder, according to her own tests, as her husband.

In case of family hardships and distress, if every other alternative had been exhausted, one could imagine justifiable circumstances for such a practice. But the girl who would sell herself as a bride in order to go to college is so infirmly grounded in good morals that a college education would be utterly wasted.

When woman or man loses self-pride and self-respect, she or he is not far from the drug fiends, that circle of wrecked souls unable to extricate themselves by their own efforts.

RULES FOR LONGEVITY.

Dr. James Martin Peebles, physician and author, died in Los Angeles the other day lacking but forty days of being 100 years old. He wrote a book some time ago on "How to Live a Century and Grow Old Gracefully." The rule he stressed most was "Keep calm."

"Avoid worry and keep a harmonious mind," he said. "Worry is among the worst things in the world. Have a strong will power. Always look for the new. Keep calm."

On the same day that Dr. Peebles died, Mr. Louis Horowitz passed away at his home in New York. He was 105. He attributed his long life to a sense of humor. Keep smiling inwardly and outwardly, was his rule.

Suppose we combine these rules and see how they work. Here are two fine examples of their efficacy. Avoid worry; keep calm; maintain good humor.

A woman in Bakersfield kills her husband because he refused to get her a glass of water. Of course he should have gone for the drink, and a jury probably will find her guiltless of crime.

RATIFY TREATY, NOT SPEECHES

Senator Hitchcock has succeeded in putting through the Senate a resolution asking President Harding for all suggested drafts of the four power treaty on naval limitation, together with all records of committee discussions and other data concerning it. He is disturbed and "amazed" at Senator Lodge's assertion that most of the records desired were never kept.

Why such disturbance or his conference would such records of discussions or such tentative drafts of agreement be? The treaty is a completed and signed document. It stands on its own feet. Its purposes, meaning and the responsibilities which it entails are clear. It abrogates the Anglo-Japanese alliance, the greatest potential international danger to the United States. It reduces and limits armaments, thereby reducing our cost of defense without jeopardizing our safety. By the same means it reduces the danger of any attack upon us or our interests. It commits us to no expenditure of men or money in defense of another power.

That is clear enough, and it is all for our good. What matter if it is also for the good of the other nations engaged? That merely makes its practical application more easy and more certain. Of what importance are the details of negotiations through which this end was attained?

Of course it will do no harm for the Senate to see the documents desired, if they exist, but neither will it do any good. The request merely means delay of ratification. It is the completed treaty which must be ratified, not any stenographic report of what Mr. Balfour or Mr. Hughes may have remarked at some stage of the negotiations.

The whole controversy over this petty detail of minute notes appears to be merely an excuse for delay. It comes with particularly poor grace from Senator Hitchcock, when we remember how he swallowed the Wilson League of Nations hook, line and sinker. If ever there was an international agreement accepted and given birth in secrecy, and accepted heretofore, it was that document. Yet Hitchcock did not demand any detail of its method of construction.

Here we have a treaty reached with the greatest publicity ever known in diplomatic negotiation. Its meaning is clear and unequivocal. Such petty delaying opposition as has appeared merely goes to show the weakness of those who oppose it.—Chicago Tribune.

In France they are going to build a monument to the dogs of war. In this case the dogs of war are not cruellers or dreadnaughts but the real dogs and the monument should be a work of art. We have often wondered why it is that there are not more statues of dogs and fewer of men. The man, in stone, looks so conscious and so awkward, while the animal is a thing of grace and power. We like statues of dogs because dogs have no trousers and the trousers, in stone, well, you know how they look.

"And 'twas at Aunt Dinah's petting party I was vamping Johnny Jones."

The whole question of vamps and flappers has been discussed at length at the home of one of New York's social leaders on Fifth avenue. It was decided that there are two kinds of vamps—the unconscious and the deliberate—and that for the latter there is no excuse or apology. At this particular meeting seven separate and distinguished speeches were leveled at the bobbed head of the vamp who gets with malice aforethought, seven index fingers were poised warningly at the flapper, and seven times there was a flutter of well-bred applause. It is high time the Redding Chamber of Commerce was seeing to it that Redding derives her honest benefits from Lassen Park—benefits in proportion to Redding's efforts in her half of the park. If the passenger traffic department of the Southern Pacific does not know that Redding is on the map—as the small face type denoting Redding would indicate in the time tables—Charles S. Fee, Esquire, should be properly informed of Redding's relation to Northern California, and particularly Lassen Park. At all events, it appears that Red Bluff and Chico are cornering the "reputation" of Mt. Lassen, while Redding is being left out in the cold.—Redding Free Press.

Everybody, save those who have established and maintained such signs, will be gratified over the order that advertising signs will no longer be permitted in the National Forest Reserve. It is not only that they seem almost like sacrifice, but they cause travelers to give too little heed to official signs. ment of the entire province in the Polish language.

"When the World War was over Eastern Galicia set itself up as a republic, elected a president, and began affiliations with the Ukraine over the old Russian line to the east. This association was due to blood, language and religion, for in these three respects the Poles, Ukrainians and Ukrainians—or more properly the Ukrainians of Eastern Galicia and Ukraine—are practically one. Before the partition of old Poland in 1772 Eastern Galicia was known as 'Western Ukraine.' Then the Austrian-Russian boundary line was erected between the two areas and has remained practically ever since. "Eastern Galicia is about half the size of present Austria and is a rough rectangle something more than 160 miles in each direction. Its southern line is formed by the Carpathian mountains at a place where some of their peaks reach the perpetual snow line. Eastern Galicia is thus cut off from the warm winds of the south, and so has a rigorous climate. A tributary of the Dniester river is the only geographical feature which divides it from the present Ukrainian Republic, while between it and Poland the line is one of blood and language rather than of geography. "One factor that may have some bearing on the giving of Eastern Galicia's hand to one of her two suitors is the fact that she is a 'petro-lean heiress.' If the Balkan field south of the Caucasus mountains be considered in Asia, Eastern Galicia has the only paying supply of petroleum in Europe, except that in Rumania. A few years ago the output from the wells near Lemberg constituted about 5 per cent of the world production."

SAD CASE OF McNABB.

"I am the fellow!" said Old Man McNabb.
"All for myself I must hustle to grab, All that I do in this land of the free Must have something tangible in it for me."
I am the fellow that's out for the gold, Out for the stuff I can gather and hold. Let others prate of their service for Man, I'm on this earth to get all that I can."

Old Man McNabb sits alone in his wealth. Broken in spirit and broken in health. "Cold is the world," he declares, all alone; Never a friend he can trust has he known. Nobody stops at his door day by day, Nobody pauses a kind word to say. Now he discovers, with life near its end, One can grab money, but can't grab a friend.

He wanted it all for himself, did McNabb. Greedy and selfish and eager to grab. Working for others he thought was a crime. A waste of his effort, a waste of his time; Seeking the profit, he went on his way Making his world what he finds it today. Now, at the end of his road, he has learned, He who spurns others shall some day be spurned.

"I am the fellow," thought Old Man McNabb, "All for myself I must hustle to grab." Pitiful doctrine and horrible creed. Fashioned in selfishness, built on greed. Turn from yourself just as fast as you can. Think less of profit and more of the man. Make it a good world for others, and they Will make it a good world for you every day.

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

Today is women's day at the University of California. Egg shipments from Livermore to Oakland and San Francisco are very heavy at present. It is said that the average is 3000 dozen a day. A new organization known as the Slavonian Social and Benevolent Society of Oakland was formed last night. Another dredger is now at work on the tidal canal.

Multiplication Is Vexation.

The little girl at the elementary school had been promoted to multiplication and for her home work was set the task of finding out how many legs four hundred normal horses possess. A bit puzzled as to how to work it out, in the evening, as she sat with her exercise book in front of her, she called in the services of her grandmother. "Let's see," said grandma, adjusting her spectacles, "one horse'll have four legs, two eight, three twelve, four sixteen, five twenty—" and then she broke off. "How many horses did you say?" she asked. "Four hundred, granny," replied the little girl. "E-e-e, child," said the old lady, shutting up the book, "there isn't one living could do that sum."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

About YOUR HEALTH

Why Oedema of the Lungs Demands Immediate Attention

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.

To any swelling or puffiness of a part of the body we give the name "oedema" or "edema." Usually the condition of the oedema is accompanied by an increased amount of fluid in the tissues. In a sense it is a kind of dropsy.

There are diseases of the lungs in which there is an escape of fluid from the blood-vessels into the air-cells.

You will recall that the vital portions of the lungs are the minute air-cells to which the inspired air penetrates. The walls of these cells contain tiny blood-vessels. Both the walls of the cells and the blood-vessels walls are so very, very thin that the oxygen of the air in the cells passes through into the blood itself.

Sometimes, however, the process is reversed, and the fluid of the blood escapes into the air-cells. Then we have oedema.

The first step in this process is congestion. If there be some disease of the lung accompanied by marked increase in its blood supply, there is the possibility of leakage of fluid into the air-cells.

Bright's disease, pneumonia, certain forms of heart disease, pregnancy, oedema of the arteries and convulsions may have oedema of the lungs as a symptom.

Were all the air-cells of the lungs to be filled suddenly with fluid as a result of oedema, death would be as immediate as it is in drowning. You can see that the practical effect would be the same. In one case the fluid would find its way through the mouth into the lungs, and so up to the air-cells. In complete oedema the air-cells would be filled with fluid supplied by the blood.

Fortunately, such serious cases are not common. Even if the attack is mild, the symptoms are severe.

First, there is a feeling of tightness in the chest and panting for breath. The difficulty in breathing increases. Coughing and frothy expectoration follow. The cough is constant, and some blood may be expelled.

Naturally, the difficult breathing is alarming to the victim. He becomes excited, and is sure he will die.

Pateness, cold perspiration and weak pulse may accompany the trouble.

In breathing, the air passes through the lungs in the air-cells, making use of the fact that the bubble may be heard.

The attack may pass off in a few hours, and then disappear, only to recur. One authority tells of a patient who had an attack every week, or two for two or three years.

The underlying condition should be given attention, and every such case requires good medical care at once.

SPEAKING ABOUT OURSELVES.

Many a girl uses powder merely because she hasn't the cheek to do without it. A monologue is a conversation with your wife. Many a man's popularity begins and ends with himself. When your ideal becomes an ordeal it is time for a new deal. Figures won't lie, but corsets keep them from telling the whole truth. Of course it may be possible for a woman to keep a secret, but as a general thing she is dreadfully out of practice. Men must work and women must weep, but the women seem to get more pleasure out of their end of the job.—London Opinion.

Noisiness. The discharge of one's duty is rarely loud enough to attract attention.—Boston Transcript.

EARLY START IN TRAINING WILL HELP OAKLAND PITCHERS

BUZZ ARLETT IS DUE TO HAVE BEST SEASON ON HILLTOP FOR OAKS

Boys At Myrtle Dale Camp Expect To See Buzz's Brother Develop Into A Good Player.

By EDDIE MURPHY.

OAKS TRAINING CAMP, MYRTLEDALE HOT SPRINGS, Feb. 23.—Rolled in here yesterday noon with Duffy Lewis, manager of the Salt Lake Bees, who motored from Boyes Springs so he could say hello to the boys, and get an idea of how the Oakland pitching department will stack up for the 1922 pennant drive in the Pacific Coast League. As was expected at such an hour, the fifteen Oaks who are training here were crowded around the door of the dining room at the hotel, waiting to hear the clang of the big bell which passes the news about camp that it is time to shove the hooft under the meal table. Wouldn't it be foolish to have expected to see a lot of ball players doing anything other than hanging around the dining room at such an hour? The fellow who arrives at the dinner table late at this place is likely to get cheated out of a meal, for Dick Arlett, more than 200 pounds of flesh, bones and whiskers, is first at the table and last to get away.

How Dick ever took off eleven pounds in the first week of the boys have been up here is a mystery to everybody but probably Dick himself. No athlete can eat like that. The editor of the local paper, Gibraltar, and make a person believe that he is losing weight. Why if he lost eleven pounds since coming here, it must have been by exchanging his dress shoes to baseball spikes, and giving himself a clean shaven head. Trainer (Scotty) Minley, who has the honor each day of rolling the big fellow around and around the dining room, and will then be the first to get up, for in camp he has shown the boys some real stuff in the line of pitching. In regard to Arlett, Minley also said: "Why if that big fellow can just work his weight down to 190 pounds, and will then be the first to get up, for in camp he has shown the boys some real stuff in the line of pitching. In regard to Arlett, Minley also said: "Why if that big fellow can just work his weight down to 190 pounds, and will then be the first to get up, for in camp he has shown the boys some real stuff in the line of pitching."

Guess What Duffy Lewis Keeps Locked in Cellar?

If he can land a high class first sacker and another outfielder, Duffy Lewis will be satisfied that everything is set for his club to prepare for the 1922 pennant race. In the basement of his Boyes Springs home, Duffy has unlocked the door which he used to make him the king sacker of the Coast League last season, and not only that, but the only batter to hit over .400 for a season in the league. Duffy prizes that like a hawk's eye, and he is not going to let it go off to the Modesto training camp. Duffy also has a secret cellar the fielders must which he used while starring in the outfield for the famous Boston Red Sox. Duffy does not say he will have as big a season as the stick next season, but just the same he is not going to let that prize war club get away from him. It's a fine feed of somebody's hand that Duffy, his pet Boston terrier, would have if any one tried to take that bat or glove from the basement, for Duffy watches them like he would a rat.

Bees Expect To Land a First Sacker Very Soon.

Within a day or two, Lewis expects to have a new first sacker signed for the Bees. Secretary Jack Cook sent a telegram to Duffy yesterday, saying that he has practically closed for a well-known guardian of the first base, but at the time was unable to mention the name of the first sacker and an outfielder whom the Bees are after, and if they are secured they are going to land a big win to the Bees. A high class first sacker, the Bees will have an infield that will be hard to beat. Duffy is looking for a second baseman, a third baseman, a shortstop, and a pitcher. Duffy is looking for a second baseman, a third baseman, a shortstop, and a pitcher.

Eller's Pitching Arm Has Little Soreness.

Harry Eller, Arlett and Horace "Hot" Eller with one or two other boys take a long hike. Eller, according to Del and Ivan Howard, is going to be the best pitcher in the training camp. Eller is going to be the best pitcher in the training camp. Eller is going to be the best pitcher in the training camp.

Buzz Arlett's Wing Never Fell Better.

All the fingers in camp with the exception of Eller's, are feeling fine, something unusual for this stage of the training season. However, Buzz Arlett, the big flogger who was the sensation of the Pacific Coast League flogger, is feeling fine. St Mary's Prepsters Defeat Berkeley High in Speedy Ball Game.

The Berkeley High baseball team proved easy pickins for the St. Mary's prepsters yesterday at the Berkeley High school. The young Saints, returning to their red brick building with a 12 to 4 victory. The Saints pounced upon four College City chuggers for sixteen healthy hits, and scored three runs, doing something that Oakland High, O. A. L. champs of last year, failed to do.

"Don" Brown Accepts Oakland Club Terms.

"Don" Brown, the outfielder, has accepted terms and will start for the Oaks' training camp in the latter part of the month. Brown received today by Terrie McGinnis from Brown, who has been wintering in Seymour, Indiana. Brown was with the Oakland Bees last season and batted .309. He can be used at third base or in the outfield.

California Batters Rout M. J. B. Tossers.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Feb. 23.—The University of California nine sent the M. J. B. Coffee team back to San Francisco with a big question mark yesterday afternoon, beating the semi-pro aggregation by a count of 12-1 in a loose ball game. Four California hurlers held the San Francisco team helpless at the bat.

Joie Ray Wins From Fast Field in East.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 23.—Joie Ray, of the Illinois A. C., easily won the Boston mile run at the American Legion games at the East Armory yesterday. Ray, who captured the event last year also, finished fifty yards in the lead of Jimmy Connolly, of Georgetown, with Mike Devaney, of the Milwaukee A. C., third. His time was 4 minutes 25.5 seconds, slow for so fast a field.

ST. MARY'S STAR PITCHER

GENE VAN HOUTTE, the young pitcher shown here, stepped up into Class A company in the local bushers faster than any other lad around here with the exception of Bill Plummer. Only a year ago, Gene could not even land with a Class B bush club, but last summer he stepped out with the Oakland Natives, played with them in the Oakland TRIBUNE Midwinter league, and then entered St. Mary's College, where he is now the mainstay of the pitching staff. He is only 17 years of age, but is already under the watchful eye of scouts.

Oakland Club Has Number of Practice Games.

MYRTLEDALE SPRINGS, Feb. 23.—Del Howard, vice-president of the Oakland ball club, announced last evening that the Oaks will play six games at Oakland and Berkeley before leaving for Sacramento, to open the season. The first game will be given to a slight workout and preparation for an early start for Sacramento.

St. Mary's To Play Seattle in Practice.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 23.—A telegram received at baseball headquarters here today from Manager Walter McCreedy at Byron Hot Springs, Cal., stated that the Indians who are there have been unable to do any work on account of the bad weather. Four catchers and three pitchers are in camp. A game has been arranged between the Seattle club and St. Mary's College for St. Patrick's Day at the regular Seattle training camp at Stockton.

Tribune Teams Hold Practice For Big Games

Coast League, Hayward Diamonds Will Draw Fans Next Sunday.

The Popular Candy Store team which will meet the Oakland Natives No. 50 in the first game of the championship series, were out yesterday at Alberger field for a couple of hours, practice. The "Kandy Kids" looked mighty sweet tossing the horseshoe around a wooden peg and from all appearance the Natives have at least a couple of tough games to pull through if they hope to annex the class A amateur championship of Northern California. The Natives were not overlooking any opportunities yesterday either, for some of them were out for a short workout. The whole team would have been out but for the fact that three of them are still on the sick list.

Latest reports from Laurie and Truman Beeson were that they will be in uniform Sunday, riding the weather is not too chilly or damp. Although there are several good all-around men on the Natives, Pete Staraschik would feel better satisfied with the regulars in their positions. Laurie has been the batter mate of Andy Phillips all season. The war club of his brother Truman has driven in many a run for his team, and Laurie is a good hitter and naturally Native fans are wishing for Truman, better known as "Lefty," to get into the opening fray of the series.

Phil Gardner or Carl Kamb will oppose Phillips on the mound, and the game will start at 2 o'clock, with John Zimmerman and Harry Arlett doing the umpiring. The Hayward N. G. W. who will meet the Natives at Motor next Sunday afternoon in a game that will decide the California Division championship of the class B league, also manages to get a workout today in an exhibition game. The Natives and Motor boys are well matched clubs and the fans should witness a game worth while the boys will be in uniform Sunday.

At Diablo yesterday the Washington Birthday tournament was abandoned in some of the fairways were on the score of a cold wind. However, made conditions quite favorable for play. Quite a number of the better players were present, and the tournament was a success. The winners of the tournament were Roy L. Pratt, Geo. B. Dineen, and Harry Arlett. Technical High Wins Ball Game From S. F. Nine

Polytechnic Shut Out Six To Nothing By Local Tossers.

The Technical High baseball team celebrated George Washington's Birthday by trouncing the Polytechnic nine across the street. The Technical High team played the game in the fastest game ever played this season at the Tech high grounds. The Broadway boys were out of the game in the first inning, and played rings around the trans bay team. A few errors at opportune times helped the Tech boys to romp through with the victory.

Both teams used a number of substitutes, especially the Tech team. The game was a success. The winners of the tournament were Roy L. Pratt, Geo. B. Dineen, and Harry Arlett. The winners of the tournament were Roy L. Pratt, Geo. B. Dineen, and Harry Arlett.

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 23.—Unless Jim Thorpe, noted Indian athlete, modifies his mind as to salary, he may not become a member of the Portland baseball club, according to club officials. The deal for obtaining him from Toledo is contingent upon the club's ability to raise the money. The deal for obtaining him from Toledo is contingent upon the club's ability to raise the money.

McGraw Not To Get Rid of Jeff Barnes And Shuffling Phil.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Irving K. Wilhelm, manager of the club, who is visiting relatives here, declared that "there isn't anything to that tale of McGraw jettisoning Barnes and Shuffling Phil. I know, because we could use them and there's no way of getting rid of them." The deal for obtaining him from Toledo is contingent upon the club's ability to raise the money.

Bill Ritola Wins 15-Mile Marathon.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Wm. Ritola, 26-year-old Finn, holder of the senior metropolitan cross-country championship, won the 15-mile marathon race in the Madison Square Garden, negotiating the distance in one hour, 25 minutes and 14.5 seconds faster than that made on a measured track in 1909 at Celtic Park, N. Y. by J. J. Crowley, who won the race in 1910.

Five Seal Players Have Not Signed Up.

Catcher W. Dilhoefer Of Cardinals Dies.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 23.—Catcher Bill Dilhoefer of the Cardinals died today following an operation at St. John's hospital. Dilhoefer had been ill several weeks with typhoid fever, complicated by an affection of the gall bladder. He was 36 years old and had been married for only two months to Miss Mabel Slocum, a Mobile (Ala.) school teacher. He had played with the Chicago Cubs, Philadelphia Athletics and Milwaukee before coming to the Cardinals.

Kelly Wales Delivers Blow in the Pinch to Beat Up State Team.

Kelly Wales, Louis Gustaf's dashing St. Mary's rightfielder, was too much for the Sacramento All-Stars of Billy Orr yesterday afternoon on the local college grounds, beating the up-state team. Wales was assisted by some able pitching on the part of "Skip" Oeschger and Bob Hadley, the two St. Mary's hurlers, allowing the Stars but a total of two bingles for their afternoon's work.

tion of buying orders over the half-day, gave momentum to the further advance of prices at the opening of the day. The "big boys" of the market, especially Royal Dutch, Shell, trading and General Asphalt, were the strongest bidders. The first 15 minutes of the day in New Orleans and San Francisco featured renewed inquiry for speculative rations of Searle-Roebuck and Mercor Arsenic. The tendency to bid for the metal was early taken to show acute weakness. The National Enamelling company, which had bid for 25% of the metal for their postproduction of dividers, took action.

The market wavered in the second half hour because of a pressure against Mexican and Pan-American Petroleum, Crucible Steel and Rock Island. The first 15 minutes of the second hour the fresh demand for high grade strikers, steel, equipments, motors and other goods. The goods were sold or more were made by United States Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, American Railway Electric, U. S. Rubber, General Electric, and others. Canadian Pacific added 1 to 3 points, and the price of the stock of the Union Pacific, St. Louis and San Francisco and Pere Marquette preferred was unchanged. The price of the Woolen, National Lead and International Nickel preferred were unchanged. National Enameling recovered all the loss it had made in the previous session. National dividend. Call money opened at 4 per cent.

The bidding for stocks carried the general market substantially higher, a spectacular rise in Canadian stocks, and a rise in the price of other shares of an investment group providing the leadership. U. S. Steel touched 86½ and advances of 1½ points followed in the 1005 list. On other issues, including U. P., York Central, Northern Pacific, R.

EASTERN MARKETS

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Although we witnessed setbacks in price at the opening today, the market soon rallied and scored a substantial advance. Initial depression was due to a report that the winter wheat harvest in the northwestern states was a victory where drought has been continued. Active buying set in, however, on the decline, and with gains continued. The Buenos Aires displaying comparative strength, upturn in values here was quite brought about. The opening, however, varied from 1½ to 26 lower. May $1.43 to $1.43½ and July $1.43 to $1.43½.

Corn ascended to a new high record for the crop. Indications as to the weather were generally favorable for the arrival of corn here. After a slight lull it rose to 54c up, May 63 1/2 to 64c. The market took a general upswing.

Oats went higher, with corn, striking 52c lower to 54c again. May 63 1/2 to 64c.

Despite a hesitating start, problems advanced in response to action of grain and hogs.

"JINX" JENKINS LOSES LIFE IN SAN JOSE FALL

Stunt Flier Perishes When
Parachute Fails To Open;
Drops 3000 Feet.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 23.—Thornton (Jinx) Jenkins, sensational aerial acrobat, crashed 3000 feet to almost instant death before 20,000 spectators yesterday when the new parachute he was using failed to open after he jumped from the airplane of Captain Lowell Yerxa.

The death was the culmination of a series of stunts performed without mishap by Jenkins, who had achieved a reputation as one of the most daring aerial performers in the amusement business.

He had chanced from plane to plane in mid-air, stood on his head on the wings of a flying plane, and performed acrobatic stunts from the gears of the plane Captain Yerxa was operating, and he was prepared to exhibit his last thriller.

The parachute failed to open. A gasp went up from the crowd. Women fainted, children screamed. Jenkins was seen to make a few attempts to open the parachute as he came plunging down. Up to the last moment he was working in a frantic attempt to avert death.

Jenkins landed on a dirt mound a short distance from the flying field. Dr. R. Smith, who administered first aid, said that his spine was driven into the base of his brain and nearly every bone in his body broken.

Jenkins was 24 years of age and is survived by a widow in Los Angeles. He served as an aviator during the war and was one of the first stunt aviators. The air circus yesterday, similar to the one held in Oakland a few weeks ago, was under the auspices of the San Jose Air Reserve Squadron.

Yesterday the squadron decided to turn over the net proceeds to the widow of the dead man. The circus was promoted by Ivan H. Gates, a professional circus promoter.

NOTED AUTHOR BURIED FRIDAY

BERKELEY, Feb. 23.—Funeral services for Mrs. Nellie Blessing Byster, founder and honorary president of the Pacific Coast Women's Pers Association, and for more than half a century a resident of California, will be held tomorrow from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary A. Elder, 2618 Hillebrand avenue. Her death followed a fall which she sustained more than a month ago although she had been in failing health for a year. She was 92 years old.

Mrs. Byster was an intimate friend of Oliver Wendell Holmes, who gave her encouragement in her early literary career. The last of her published books was "A Chinese Quaker." Besides her activity in the Pacific Coast Women's Pers Association she was identified with the National League of Pen Women as an officer. At various times she was associated with the staffs of the New York Tribune, New York Independent, Philadelphia Press and other papers.

A veteran temperance advocate, Mrs. Byster toured California speaking in the public schools. She has been president of the Berkeley Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Since 1906 Mrs. Byster had made her home with her daughter in this city. Formerly she was a resident of San Jose. A descendant of French Huguenots, she was born in Maryland.

Tube Under Bay Is Plan of Engineer

Alfred Bannister of 2603 Benvenue avenue, Berkeley, has published a set of plans and specifications for a new tube across the bay designed to afford passage to automobiles but not trucks. According to his plans the bay can be crossed in thirteen minutes from the foot of Folsom street in San Francisco to the Alameda pier. Bannister proposes to call for an investment of less than six million dollars to start the preliminary work. He also proposes to eliminate the gasoline taxes objected to by experts in a tube of his type by having all automobiles carried across on short trains of 10 rebuilt cars so devised as to present the effect of a continuous platform.

PARTY TO AID NEEDY.
SAN LEANDRO, Feb. 23.—With the co-operation of the local Red Cross, Mrs. K. Van Loo, 670 Fifty-fourth street, Piedmont, will hold a party this afternoon for the benefit of San Leandro's unemployed.

Honest Advertising

THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be. That it has all the virtues to-day that was claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our assurance that its standard will be maintained.

Imitations are to be found in some stores and only because of the Castoria that Mr. Fletcher created. But it is not the genuine Castoria that Mr. Fletcher honestly advertised, honestly placed before the public, and from which he honestly expects to receive his reward.

DELTA HIGHWAY PLANS APPROVED AT ANTIOCH RALLY

Bankers, businessmen and representatives of commercial interests attended a mass meeting yesterday at Antioch and approved tentative plans for the opening of the Delta highway between Sacramento and Oakland. The highway, it was said, would serve the interests of one of the richest agricultural districts in the state.

Blanks Everett, secretary of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, told those present that Oakland was in favor of the highway, and will support the project, and Sacramento sent a delegation of eleven persons headed by Irvin Engler, assistant secretary of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce. The delegation representing the good roads committee of the Sacramento County Farm Bureau and the Chamber of Commerce of that city was made up as follows: I. M. Bailey, Wilton; Fred Kennedy, Florin; R. H. Corbett, Florin; Fred S. Schmidt, Mills; and L. S. Upson, vice chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee; W. L. Hachtman, good roads committee; Gus Olsen, Holland Land company; H. O. Brown, Sacramento Southern; Irving Engler, assistant secretary, Sacramento Chamber of Commerce; R. M. Richardson, Farmers' and Mechanics' bank.

Former Chaplain Is Heard At Services

ALAMEDA, Feb. 23.—The eloquence of Roy Barrett, former chaplain with the American expeditionary forces in France, is drawing large crowds to the services being held this week in the First Baptist church, Stanton street and Santa Clara avenue.

A feature to be introduced in the meetings this evening will be the question box, from which he will answer any question touching upon religion or morals. A cafeteria lunch is served in the evenings by the women of the Ann Judson Circle.

Dr. Carpenter of Berkeley and Professor Judson have charge of the singing, while the meetings are presided over by Rev. A. P. Brown, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Boxer Victim of Mysterious Attack

VALLEJO, Feb. 23.—Charles Weir, an athlete of the Mare Island Hospital and a welterweight prize fighter, was the victim of a mysterious attack inside one of the hospital buildings early this morning and is suffering from a scalp wound and possible fracture of the skull.

Weir was found by other hospital attendants in an unconscious condition with a gash on the back of his head. Near the body was found a black jack. Investigation is being made by the authorities on the island in the belief that Weir was attacked by holdup men. His condition is reported as serious.

BERKELEY, Feb. 23.—Plans have been completed by the members of Berkeley Young Ladies' Institute for a dansant to be held next Saturday evening at the Berkeley Tennis club, Tunnel road and Domingo avenue.

Mrs. Donohue's Supporters Win Iroquois League Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—Supporters of Mrs. Charles Landon Donohue of Oakland won a signal victory at the end of an hour's heated battle yesterday when a resolution providing for a letter of commendation to the Democratic National Congressional Committee of the appointment of Mrs. Gladys Magill as National Congressional chairman of the Democratic party in California was defeated by State League of Iroquois clubs. The league met in annual convention in the Native Sons' building.

A resolution to amend the Volstead act by granting the sale of light wines and beer was tabled. Failure of the administration to ratify the Versailles peace treaty was deplored, as was also the enactment of the farmers' tariff.

Officers elected were: Grand sachem, D. A. Shelton; first vice sachem, Mrs. William Hotchkiss; second vice sachem, E. A. Campbell; third vice sachem, Mrs. Elizabeth Corboring; fourth vice sachem, C. M. Brown Jr.; grand secretary, Clarence E. Todd; grand treasurer, C. E. Grosjean. The following trustees were elected: Mrs. Carrie Hoyt, Mrs. Gladys Magill, Mrs. Mary E. Pierce, brother chairman; C. The convention closed with a banquet at the Bellevue hotel.

HAYWARD TRACT IN WATER SUIT

HAYWARD, Feb. 23.—The town of Hayward has been asked to sit in as an intervenor in the Patterson Brothers suit against the Spring Valley Water Company, according to Town Trustee H. E. Brunner.

Hayward, Brunner stated today, has been asked to sit in on the side of the Patterson Brothers. The invitation is said to have been issued by the Pattersons.

It is stated that the Eden water district has already joined the Patterson Brothers in the suit. Brunner declared today that it will cost Hayward $750 to sit in as an intervenor, but that in his opinion it will probably be necessary in about six months to sink a well at a cost of from $5000 to $6000.

The trustees will decide on a course of action in a few days.

WOMAN THWARTS ASSAULT; THREE MEN ARE SEIZED

Matron Says She Was Forced To Enter Auto, Taken
To Barn By Trio.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—Screams for help coming from a barn at 524 Bryant street sent the police on a hurry call early today. After they had broken in the door they succeeded in rescuing Mrs. Catherine Connell, 157 Welsh street.

She said she had been kidnapped and spirited to the place by three men who attempted to assault her.

Her screams frightened them away, she said. Concealed under hay and in boxes in different parts of the barn, the squad of five officers found Stanley McCormick, Henry Doyle and Walter Turner, all whom were charged with attempted felonious assault.

Mrs. Connell, hysterical and on the verge of collapse, told the police that she was walking along Tehama street when the three men posed as police officers forced her to get into their automobile, Alfred Mable, a citizen, passing heard her cries for help and notified the police.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—Eugene Barwith, 19, of 950 Eddy street, was stabbed by a gang of hoodlums with whom he had been playing a game at California hall early today. Barwith had tried several times to leave the game, but was persuaded to stay.

As he reached the street later he saw several men in an automobile opposite. One of them cried "There he goes," and all jumped on him. He succeeded in beating them off, but they finally returned and stabbed him with a penknife. He was treated at the Central Emergency hospital for a wound of the chest.

University High's Scholarship Grows

Taking the cue from big universities, the students of University High school have formally dedicated themselves toward raising a $2000 scholarship for University High.

The plan was taken from Stanford, whose graduates are putting worthy students through college. The high school scholarship is expected to do the same thing. The fund has already been well started.

An entertainment netted $64.22, as this was only the start, the University scholars have started a booth campaign, the proceeds to go to the scholarship. They polish each other's shoes and put the price of a shine in the fund.

Flood Menaces Home Built in Bottom of Creek

H. Wheeler, who lives at Outlook avenue and East Sixty-fourth street, wants the city to build a big dam up the canyon above his house, and build it quick. He wants the flood waters held back. Otherwise he fears that the whole business will soon sail toward the estuary.

According to street officials Wheeler made the mistake of building his pretty little home in the bottom of a creek. All was well during summer and autumn, but of late the approaches to the Wheeler home have been slightly damp, to say the least. On dark nights the foreground looks something like the Mississippi river in flood, with snags and things coming down in the swirling waters.

The Wheeler cellar is flooded, and he cannot get in to get supplies. The house itself still stands like a rock, but it is admitted that a few more rains may harm it badly.

"There is little we can do," say street department officials. "The house is in a natural creek bottom and we have no way to change it. Creek bottom don't change. The man of that whole section of the city. Wheeler's only sure is to move to higher ground."

POLICE ARREST
TWO STUDENTS
FOR VANDALISM

BERKELEY, Feb. 23.—A prank which L. M. Mason and L. A. Dress, college students, planned to play on a friends about to be married threatened serious results last night for the two jokers.

Mason and Dress were discovered by Special Officer Charles MacNeil, tearing down real estate signs near the Northridge Circle.

They explained to the officer that they wanted the signs merely to play a joke on a young woman about to be married, planning to place the really advertisements in front of the bride-elect's home.

Both students were taken to police station where, after examination by Acting Sergeant Frank Swain they were released with a warning to confine their joking to their own property in the future.

Mason gave his address as 1543 Spruce street and Dress as 1545 Spruce street.

Alleged Passer Of Bad Checks Is Held

Everett Manning, alias Robert E. Logan, was held to answer in the superior court on a charge of passing a fictitious check. The check in question was passed on Henry Mori, a grocer, at 2448 East Twenty-fourth street. It was for $10 and made out payable to William H. Ray, as signed by George E. White. It was drawn on the Oakland Bank of Savings.

The police say that Manning passed a number of other small checks in East Oakland.
